

GOMPERS

Reelected President of American Federation of Labor

HAYES NEWARK MAN HONORED

HEAD OF GLASS WORKERS UNION IS FIFTH VICE PRESIDENT

Election of Officers at Pittsburg Today—Little Objection Shown to Mr. Gompers.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 25.—The last session of the 25th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was called to order this morning by President Samuel Gompers. The convention hurried over reports of con-

mittees for the election of officers.
National Vice President T. L. Lewis was called to the chair and the nominations of officers was begun. In an eulogistic speech, Delegate John Golden nominated Gompers, calling him the "apostle of organized labor."
A burst of applause followed. It was moved that the nomination be made unanimous, but Delegate V. L. Berger objected, while a storm of hisses arose. Delegate J. W. Barnes, a socialist, also objected against a unanimous nomination, but was declared out of order. Lewis then declared Gompers elected president by a unanimous vote.
A storm of applause followed.
Barnes and Berger filed protests, with Secretary Morrison against

D. A. HAYES.
making the election unanimous. Mr.
Lewis then introduced Gompers. Jas.
Duncan was unanimously chosen first vice president, John Mitchell second vice president, was unanimously re-elected.
Gompers took the chair.
James O'Connell was unanimously elected third vice president. Max Morris was unanimously elected fourth vice president. D. A. Hayes, formerly of Newark, O., was unanimously elected fifth vice president.
Daniel J. Keefe was unanimously chosen sixth vice president.

MAX HAYS TALKS

Cleveland, O., Nov. 25.—Max S.
Hays, nationally prominent in labor affairs who yesterday had a signed interview with John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in the leader here, in which a strike in the bituminous and anthracite coal fields of the country was predicted for next spring, returned to his home here last night from the American Federation of Labor convention at Pittsburg. Recording the story Hays said:

"Mitchell meant every word when he said he believed a strike was inevitable if a demand for a lowering of the scale was made by the operators. He meant it when he said also that probably the miners would not only demand that the wage scale be kept as high as it is now, but that they would also demand a restoration of the 5-1-2 per cent reduction agreed to in the bituminous field last year.

"I was told that the Union was better situated this year than ever before to sustain a strike, and that if there was one it could better be pulled off next spring than at any other time. Of course Mitchell is hampered in making statements, on account of the immense importance attached to them. This restriction has the beneficial effect, however,
of making every word bear a weight
which allows not the least exaggeration. He spoke the truth."
Mitchell and Hays are intimately acquainted.

HARBISON

Tried for Murder at Youngstown Was Acquitted This Morning.

(Bulletin.)

Youngstown, O., Nov. 25.—James
I. Harbison was found not guilty this morning of the murder of Louis V.
Bergman July 4 last whom Harbison
found with Mrs. Harbison.

One of the features of the trial was the mention in the testimony of the name of Peter Laughlin, a former wealthy business man of this city, now of Minneapolis. Harbison did not deny shooting Bergman, who was prominent. The defense was insanity.

PECULATIONS OF GEO. E. ADAMS

MAY AMOUNT CLOSE TO SUM OF TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Bondsman, Withdrawn and Adams Was Returned to Jail to Await Hearing.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 25.—Late developments in the arrest of George Edward Adams, cashier in the United States assay office here, for embezzlement, indicates that instead of stealing $35,000 in gold dust, to which he has confessed, his peculations may amount close to $200,000, and that instead of covering a period of six months they will run further back than 1903. Adams' bondsman withdrew from the $30,000 bond and Adams was remanded to jail to await his preliminary hearing. Several Alaska men have already informed the federal officials that they have been defrauded by some one in the assay office. One man declared that out of $6,000 in gold dust deposited there only $5,200 was returned to him.

CONSENT

Of Mother Awaited by Rich Young German to Wed Pretty American Stenographer.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 25.—A fascinating love story is being developed in Buffalo, and when it comes to its fruition, as it will about Christmas time, an attractive young stenographer will become the bride of perhaps the richest young man to salute the Kaiser's flag.

Fritz Loeser of Berlin, whose name is known throughout the Fatherland because of the Loeser Tobacco company establishments there is the young man, and he admits his love for the young woman, although he says his engagement must be sanctioned by his mother.

Miss Mabel C. Benham, a stenographer in the Thomas Motor Works, is the young woman.

With Walter Neitzel, of Strasburg,
Germany, Mr. Loeser came to America to tour in an automobile. It was while buying a machine in the automobile factory that he met Miss Benham and the couple fell desperately in love.

PRESIDENT'S VIEWS.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Senator Milliard of the interstate commerce committee, called at the White House
this afternoon to learn the President's views about the Foraker bill.
It is said on good authority that the President told him frankly he regarded the bill as an anti-administration measure and would fight it to the finish.

A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

Christiania, Nov. 25.—The state century of King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf into their future capital, was celebrated with festivities and ceremonies never before witnessed. Fully 100,000 people were present. Nearly every city in Norway was represented.

MADE A DASH FROM PRISON

Convicts Kill Two Guards and Blow
Up the Penitentiary Gate.

RUNNING FIGHT IN STREET

Engage a Posse in a Battle With Guns and Two Fall Wounded, One Mortally, Before They Surrender.
Jefferson City the Scene of a Sensational Affair—Men's Records.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 25.—Four convicts made a dash from the state penitentiary, and as a result three men are dead and two wounded. The dead: John Clay, gatekeeper; E. Allison, officer of the commissary department; Hiram Blake, convict from Grundy county. Wounded: Deputy Warden R. E. See; Harry Vaughn, convict, St. Louis. George Ryan and Charles Raymond were recaptured unhurt.

E. Allison and Gateman Clay were encountered at wagon gate and shot dead. The convicts rushed through, slammed the gate shut and fastened it on the inside. They were then in the wagon entrance to the pen, this entrance being about 40 feet long by 15 feet wide, and leading to the public street through another double gate of steel. This outside gate was locked, but the desperate convicts were determined but for a moment. Placing their nitroglycerin under the outside gate, they blew an opening through the massive steel doors, and before the smoke had cleared the opening they had dashed through a number of trusty convicts working in the street, and ran madly for 12 blocks.

Almost before the four escaping convicts had covered the distance of one block the prison officials, heavily armed, were in pursuit, shooting as they ran. Pedestrians jumped behind trees, ran into houses, and crouched down behind any obstacle that presented refuge. A desperate fear gave speed to the convicts, and they outran their pursuers. Near the Missouri Pacific railroad depot they came upon a wagon being driven by Orville K.
Lane. Jumping into this wagon, they seized Lane and held him to act as a shield from the bullets of their pursuers. One convict lashed the horses into a run. The wild ride was of short duration, however, as another posse, consisting of city police augmented
by citizens, appeared in front of them, and seeing that further flight was cut off they stopped and made a desperate stand. Lane was thrown to the bottom of the wagon, and crouching over him, shielding themselves to the best possible advantage behind the sides of the vehicle, they opened fire, back to back, on their pursuers. The prison officials shouted to them to surrender or they would be shot dead. Their only reply was a volley from their revolvers. The posse got behind trees and shot with telling effect, splinter-ing the wagon and finally putting a bullet through one of the convicts, who fell to the ground. Thereupon, seeing that death was inevitable and further resistance useless, the convicts surrendered. It was found that Convicts Vaughn and Blake were suffering from bullet wounds. The convicts were immediately taken back to the pen. A rigid investigation was immediately held to ascertain from what source the mutineers obtained their weapons and explosives.

Convict Vaughn from St. Louis was sentenced for 25 years for first degree robbery. Vaughn was a member of the Morris-Rosenau gang, with which three detectives fought a terrific battle on Chestnut street, in St.
Louis. One detective was shot dead and the other two detectives died later in the city hospital from wounds.
Charles Raymond from St. Louis was sentenced for three years for burglary and larceny. Hiram Blake from Grundy county is also serving a three-year sentence for burglary and larceny. George Ryan from Kansas City, known as the "ice box" man, is serving a sentence of eight years. Eli Zeigler from Warrensburg was sentenced to three years for robbing dead bodies at a railroad wreck.

ELECTRIC LIGHT

Blinded the Conductor, Who Signaled
the Car to Destruction and Jos.
Korn to His Death.

Lima, O., Nov. 25.—Blinded by the huge electric light of the locomotive pulling the fast northern Cincinnati and Detroit limited on the Great Central railway Trolley Conductor Oscar J. Mannion gave the word to the motorman on the city car to come on, having first crossed the railway tracks and closed the derail with the hand lever. He had misjudged the distance, however, and a second later
the locomotive hit the light car, throwing it at right angles upon the Lake Erie and Western tracks, and bursting in the debris Joseph Korn, its only passenger, who was fatally injured. Korn is a veteran Lake Erie railroad, 71 years old.

CRISIS

In Turkey Near Breaking Point According to Indications

(Bulletin.)

Constantinople, Nov. 25.—The sultan has ordered the arrest of Fehim Pasha, chief of the secret police, charged with working against the ruler's interests. A big sensation has been caused by this action. It is reported the porte discovered a plot among the secret police to head a movement to depose Abdul Hamid if he gives way to the demands made by the powers for international control of the finances of Macedonia. The indications are that the crisis has reached the breaking point.

Pais, Nov. 25.—Information comes today from an authoritative source that the objective point of the international fleet assembled at Piraeus to make a demonstration against Turkey is the island of Mitylene. The sultan is extremely perplexed as he does not dare to yield on account of the effect such action would have upon his subjects
yet he fears to push his resistance too far. Those in position to know are extremely optimistic as to outcome of the demonstrations.

MURDER

Of Russian Imperial Family
Planned by Unknown Persons.

(Bulletin.)

Berlin, Nov. 25.—St. Petersburg police have intercepted two cipher letters in which a project for the murder of the Russian imperial family is discussed. According to the Berlin Tagblatt's correspondent the letters are addressed by members of the revolutionary party to their adherents abroad. The conspirators are unknown.

PARALYSIS

Of Lower Extremities Due to Injury
of Spinal Cord Makes Prognosis Extremely Grave.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—A restful night which increased in a marked degree
the hope that he will recover, was passed by Marshall Field, Jr. The nurses' report showed a pulse of 80 and a temperature of 98.5, almost normal.

At 9:30 today the following bulletin was issued by Dr. Bevan:

"Mr. Field's general condition good; pulse 78, temperature 98.3-10, respiration 14. Wound dressed and found in excellent shape so far as abdominal injury is concerned. No peritonitis. Paralysis of lower extremities, due to injury of spinal cord, makes prognosis extremely grave."

This is the first information made public concerning an injury to the spine.

MRS. ROGERS WEAKENS

Windsor, Vt., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Mary Rogers who is making a final fight before the supreme court of the United States to prevent her execution for the murder of her husband, is breaking down. She hangs December 8 unless the supreme court intervenes.

Mean while the preparations under the direction of Henry H. Peck for the execution go on at the Windsor state prison. Sheriff Peck denies the report that he would rather than hang the woman. Mrs. Rogers has been removed from her cell in order to discover if any articles which might be used for self destruction were hidden away. When the removal took place the woman appeared to be considerably agitated and thought they were taking her to be hanged. She was made to change her clothing under the careful supervision of a matron
so that nothing would be concealed.
Mrs. Rogers is confined in a cell with a cellmate who sleeps with her and guard her movements for fear that she endeavor to take her own life.

This woman is really Mrs. Rogers death watch.
A cry from her would bring a guard who passed at hand in the corridor.
The same gate will be used upon which Mrs. A. M. Barker and Sylvester Boll were hanged. Mrs. Rogers weighs nearly 17 pounds.

TO HAMILTON AND PERKINS

Large Sums of Money Advanced by the New York Life.

BOOKKEEPER ON THE STAND

No Reason Given For the Gift to Hamilton and No Entry Made of the Perkins Transaction—Interesting Developments at the Insurance Investigating Committee's Session.

New York, Nov. 25.—In the course of an inquiry into the transactions participated in by the New York Life insurance company, Milton M. Madison, a bookkeeper of the New York Life, gave interesting testimony before the insurance investigation. It was brought out that in the case of the United States Steel corporation syndicate, the managers of which were J. P. Morgan & Company, there appeared in one instance a profit due to the New York Life of $87,187, from which was deducted, no reason being given, the sum of $59,310 paid to Andrew Hamilton, who has been described in the course of the investigation as the "insurance legislative generalissimo." It appeared from records produced that an account of J.
P. Morgan & Company with Hamilton showed that in December, 1901, that firm had advanced to Hamilton the sum of $56,730; that on Oct. 1, 1902, this sum amounted with interest to $59,310, and that it was then canceled
by the entry of that amount to Hamilton's credit. The entry of this amount in the account of the New York Life read "as per canceled statement and arrangement with Mr. G. W.
Perkins." It was also developed that the participation in the syndicate of the New York Life was effected through the New York Security and Trust company, by which one-fourth of the profits of the former company were retained.

Pressed by Mr. Hughes to tell whether he knew of any other instance of money due to the New York Life being paid to a third party, as in the Hamilton case, Mr. Madison recalled the payment in 1901 of $40,000 to George W. Perkins, representing the profit on a loan of $300,000 to the Boston firm of Kidder, Peabody & Company. The profit, witness said, came in the form of a check on the First National bank, which he cashed, giving the money to Perkins. What the latter did with it the witness did not know. No entry of the transaction was made on the books of the New York Life.

TEN-STORY CHURCH.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 25.—Dr.
Charles A. Eaton has returned from New York, where, with John D.
Rockefeller, his parishioner, he inspected the Broadway tabernacle. It is said that Rockefeller will erect here soon the finest church west of New York. Ten stories high, it will be an institutional church in the highest sense of the word.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE.

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 25.—A earthquake shock which was felt last night throughout the Manchester district shook sleepers from their bed destroying many chimneys.

To inaugurate Theodore Roosevelt
president of the United States last March cost $145,491, a greater sum than was ever spent for any previous inauguration.

DOCTOR FELL HEIR TO THE ESTATE

But Others Who Thought They Shared Wheeler's Thousands Want Will Examined.

Lima, O., Nov. 25.—The death
here a week ago of Mrs. Millieratta Wheeler Watson, widow of Jean Wheeler, a Lima pioneer merchant, who died in 1902, has brought about a big suit by heirs.

When John Wheeler died he was survived by one son, Harry Wheeler, unmarried, who, however, died four months later. A will could not be found, but in the effects of the deceased, Mrs. Wheeler claimed to have found a copy of an alleged will, and by testimony had it probated and herself named as executrix. This will made her the sole beneficiary, cutting off the son Harry, with the request that the mother give him a home in the Wheeler estate of the city.

A little more than a year after the death of Wheeler the widow married Dr. Watson. People were surprised when a suit of property was made and the title was found to be in Dr. Watson's name.
The couple moved to apartments in the Wheeler block, and there, ten days ago, she died.

Last week Dr. Watson filed application to be made administrator of his wife's estate, but relatives protested when the estate was given at "about $200." Then it was found that an inventory showed the estate

at the time of the devivor's death to have been worth more than $100,- 000.

Now Nelson Wheeler, brother of the deceased merchant, with other heirs, has filed suit alleging the purported copy of the will was a fraud;
that the estate in fact was seized by Harry Wheeler, and asking that the alleged will be set aside.
Dr. Watson has engaged Attorneys Wallis & Moore, of Ottawa, to fight the Wheeler suit, which has been set for trial for next Tuesday,
and which will create great interest.
Watson is said to have a brother in Findlay, O.

MR. CARNEGIE

Iron Master Celebrates 58th Anniversary of His Birth.

New York, Nov. 25.—Andrew Carnegie is 58 years old today. He will spend the day at his Fifth avenue home with his family planning philanthropic work. This afternoon intimate friends will call to congratulate him.

Since the iron master accumulated his great fortune he has given away $137,000,000 has built libraries all over the country, has given many millions to other educational projects and there are many educational and charitable contributions in which the public is not taken into his confidence.

CASHIER G. GWYN IS NOW MISSING

CHARGED HE HAS ABDONDED
WITH $18,000 OF BANK'S FUNDS.

For Unknown Reason Run Started on Keokuk Bank—Institution in South Closed.

Fredericktown, Mo., Nov. 25.— Granville Gwyn, cashier of the Bank of Hayti, has disappeared, and it is charged that he has absconded with $18,000 of the bank's funds. A reward of $500 has been offered for his apprehension. The capital of the bank was only $20,000. The Fredericktown Trust company held stock in the institution, and when it became known that Gwyn had gone an assessment of $20,000 was voted unanimously and paid in to make good the loss. Gwyn was regarded as an exemplary young man. His mother is lying at the point of death owing to the shock.

Run on a Bank.
Keokuk, Ia., Nov. 25.—For no known reason a run started on the savings department of the State Central Savings bank, the oldest bank here. The run is being made by women and small depositors. Business men are not participating. Judge William Logan is president of the bank, the capital of which is $100,000.

Bank Closed.
Washington, Nov. 25.—The comptroller of the currency has been advised that by order of the board of directors the First National bank of Leesville, La., has closed its doors.
No cause is assigned.

VICIOUS HOG

Carried the Child to a Thicket and Mangled It—The Little Victim
Will Die.

Richmond, Ky., Nov. 24.—John, the five-year-old son of John H. Thorpe, while playing in the barnyard with his little sister, was grabbed by a vicious hog which carried the boy to a dense woods, several hundred yards away, and so badly bit and tore the child that he will die. The hog had to be killed before it would release its victim.
The boy would have been devoured had not assistance come. The child's death is momentarily expected.

DR. DOWIE RETURNS.

New York, Nov. 25.—Among the passengers arriving today on the steamer America, from Tampico and Havana, were Rev. John Alexander Dowie and several dozen persons in all. They were Mexico to inspect lands to be a Zionist colony.

ATHLETIC EXENT OF YEAR

CAPT. HURLEY FROM HOSPITAL SENDS WORD TO TEAM

Coaches Report the Men of Contesting Teams are in Perfect Condition.

CAMBRIDGE, NOV. 25.—(Bulletin.)—FINAL SCORE: YALE 6, HARVARD 0.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 25.—In the first half this afternoon neither Harvard nor Yale scored. Much punting was done. Yale played a fast bucking game, making good gains.

Boston, Nov. 25.—When the referee's whistle blows this afternoon on Soldiers' Field announcing the beginning of the annual football game between Yale and Harvard the climax of the football season will have been reached. Other football games may arouse more or less interest but the hereditary rivalry between the crimson and the blue, born of scores of hard fought, bitterly contested struggles, make this annual football contest the great athletic event of the year.

After a shower in the night,
the morning broke without rain, but with weather conditions far from settled. An element of uncertainty pervaded all hearts lest the afternoon prove unfavorable. The streets this morning were thronged with gaily dressed men and women sporting in friendly rivalry their partisan colors.
The women, gowned in wonderful creations of blue or crimson, wearing in their corsages huge bouquets of violets or crimson chrysanthemums, the men more soberly clad, but with their college colors always somewhere in evidence, either in flag or ribbon. Everywhere the best of good nature prevailed.

Captain Hurley, of Harvard, from the hospital where he is chafing because of inability to take part in or even see the game, sent the following message to his team:

"Dig into the game, smash at the line with all your strength. If you do this and obey the instructions you have received you will win the game."

The coaches of the contesting teams reported this morning that their men were in perfect condition.

Statistics of the teams:
Average weight Harvard's line 195
3-7 pounds.
Average weight Harvard's backs,
169 3-1 pounds.
Average weight Harvard's team,
156 1-11 pounds.
Average weight Yale's line 192 6-7
pounds.
Average weight Yale's backs, 173
pounds.
Average weight Yale's team 185
7-11 pounds.

Officials: Referee, M. McClung Jr.
Umpire, Paul Dashiell. Head Linesman, A. E. Whiting.

"DRUMSTICK"

Will be Hard Picking Thanksgiving Day—This Turkey Has a Wooden Leg.

Versailles, Ky., Nov. 25.—Among a lot of turkeys received by E. T.
Fleming, of Scott county, who is buying up "Thanksgiving birds" for the eastern market, was found a turkey with a wooden leg. The leg had been amputated just below the joint and an artificial leg had been so carefully adjusted with a strip of leather that, at first glance, it was difficult to be distinguished from the natural "limb." The fowl's legs were fastened when it was received,
and when the fastening was cut loose the turkey got up and stumped about like a person with a wooden leg.

IBSEN IS DYING.

Christiania Nov. 25.—Henrik Ibsen lies in a state of unconsciousness. He is not expected to recover.

Fire at Cleveland, O., practically destroyed the big plant of the T. H.
Pitts Manufacturing company, manufacturer of structural iron. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000.

Fine Moving Picture Entertainments.

The city of Newark was this week favored with three moving picture and illustrated entertainments given by the Y. M. C. A. Deer Entertainment Co., of Cincinnati, which is conceded by all who were fortunate enough to attend, to be the finest ever given the city. They were secured by the public schools and given in the high school chapel and were attended by over 1500 people. The moving pictures were without the usual flickering effect which made them a delight to see, and the entire character of the entertainments were of such a high order, that by the time the public became aware of their high standard and pure educational and entertaining tone, they were over with, and there was much regret that they could not be seen by many who were not there.

The St. Francis de Sales church was fortunate in securing a contract with this company whereby they have agreed to give three more moving picture and illustrated entertainments in Newark, and will be given in the St. Francis de Sales church, (which will seat over 1,000 people on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings Nov. 27, 28 and 29.

The subjects will be as follows, Monday evening, "A night in the Pine Forests," 200 fine colored views; Tuesday evening, "Ben Hur—O Tale of the Christ," 125 fine colored views just received from Paris; Wednesday evening, "Scenes from a car window," 250 fine colored views.

These entertainments were given in Cincinnati 110 times, which alone speaks for high standard and character of them. We are informed that their outfit alone cost nearly $6,000. The price of admission will be children 10c, Season tickets 25c, Adults 25c, season tickets 60c. There will be no soliciting of tickets, but they can be gotten at the church. 25-dit

ELECTRIC ROAD NEWARK TO MT VERNON

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—The Ohio Power Company of Zanesville has changed its charter, authorizing it to construct an electric railway from Newark to Mt. Vernon, thence to Mansfield thence to Norwalk. It also authorizes it to furnish light to Newark, Mt. Vernon and Marion and people along the route.

GOVERNOR'S POSITION.

Helsinki, Nov. 25.—M. Gerard, new governor general of Finland, has announced his intention of governing the country on a strict constitutional basis.

ARE AFTER A SUSPECT.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Six detectives have left Chicago to go to St. Louis to arrest a man wanted for the murder of Miss Maud Reese, killed while resisting a burglar Thursday. The man suspected is said to be an ex-convict and to be hiding in St. Louis. His hurried flight from the city is taken as further confirmation of the evidence which the police already have against him.

CHICAGO'S SUICIDE RECORD.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Chief of Police Collins has received a report from the police files showing that there have been 158 suicides since he became chief of police July 26, and that 108 persons had been arrested or held to the grand jury on a charge of murder. Of this total 103 were arrested and five were held to the grand jury by the coroners jury.

Painless, Natural Childbirth.

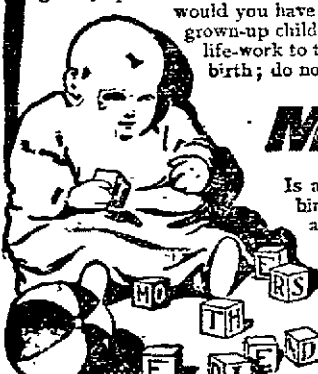

Baby's coming into the world should be preceded by a certain preparation on the part of every woman who expects to become a mother. She owes it as a duty to her unborn babe, and to herself, her duty to her unborn babe is to use every means within her power to aid his entrance into the world. Baby cannot help himself in this ordeal, therefore mother must. He has a hard enough time after his arrival, so let us make his coming easy. His health in after life depends greatly upon the manner of his coming: would you have your child a cripple, or would you have him a tower of strength? Strong men are but grown-up children; a famous surgeon in Vienna is devoting his life-work to the cure of little helpless cripples, deformed by birth; do not allow your child to become a cripple.

Mother's Friend

Is a liniment which will forestall any possibility of accident at birth; that is, it relaxes all the abdominal muscles and tissues, and permits of an easy access to the child. It eases the mother's pain, and so assists nature that when baby comes he starts out in life with a constitution well able to fight life's battles, and to bloom into strong pure manhood that is the comfort and delight of every true mother's heart.

STATE NEWS

Two Men Killed by Trolley.

Canton, O., Nov. 25.—John V. Everhart, a prominent real estate dealer of Akron, O., and Fred Baskerville, an automobile dealer of this city, were killed by an interurban car. Everhart, who came to Canton on business, had started for home in his automobile. The machine got out of order and he telephoned for Baskerville to fix it. Baskerville went into the country three miles and repaired the machine. When the two men tried to cross an electric car track in the automobile they were run down. The automobile was overturned. Everhart was pinned under it and an oil can driven through his skull, causing instant death. Baskerville was so badly crushed that he died two hours later.

Bank Robbers Foiled.

Celina, O., Nov. 25.—A band of bank robbers attempted to blow the Mendon bank's vault at Mendon, this county. There were five in the party, and they are supposed to be members of the Slater gang, which was driven out of Lima the first of the week. The robbers cut the telephone wires leading from Mendon before they attempted to blow the vault. Only one charge was exploded, and this failed to open the outer vault doors. They then abandoned the attempt, as citizens who were awakened by the report were pouring into the streets.

Purchasing Ohio Lines.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 25.—The sale of the Zanesville Railway, Light and Power company, to H. H. Byllesby & Company of Chicago, was reported authoritatively here. The Mansfield Railway and Light company, which with the local properties has been operated by Byllesby & Company for many years, is also reported sold. Despite this sale it is understood that the Schoepf-Poljan-Jorgan Interurban syndicate is still interested in buying these two properties from Byllesby & Company.

Couple Fatally Scalded.

Danville, O., Nov. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. James Greery were both badly burned by the explosion of a kettle of boiling tar. Both were in the house when the tar exploded, but sought refuge out of doors. Attracted by their cries, a farmhand dashed into the house and grabbing the kettle threw it through a window. Its contents struck both the Greerys, burning the wife so seriously that it is thought she will die. Her husband's legs are badly scalded.

Sale Set Aside.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 25.—The sale of player Thomas Owens by the Brooklyn National league club to the Rochester (N. Y.) club was set aside in a decision given out by the national baseball commission. The commission declares that "the player is a contract jumper pure and simple and there should be no temporizing in cases of this kind. He is ineligible to play with any national agreement club."

Bishop Arnett Ill.

Xenia, O., Nov. 25.—Bishop B. W. Arnett, one of the best known colored educators and churchmen in the country, is lying dangerously ill at his home near Wilberforce university, in this county, and the doctors say he can not recover. Nervousness brought on by an attack made on him about a year ago by the members of one of his eastern churches, is said to be the cause of his present condition.

Vaults Could Not Be Opened.

Lima, O., Nov. 25.—Citizens of the little town of Mendon, O., are in a frenzy of excitement over the discovery that the vaults of the Bank of Mendon, which at the close of banking hours contained between $60,000 and $75,000, had been tampered with and could not be opened. It is believed that the bank has been robbed, and experts have been summoned from Toledo to open the doors.

Pattison's First.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 25.—The first appointment Governor-elect Pattison has announced is the selection of H. H. McFadden of Steubenville as a member of the board of managers of the Ohio reformatory at Mansfield. McFadden was a member of the Mansfield reformatory board and was offered a reappointment by Governor Herrick, but declined it.

Life For Assault.

Marysville, O., Nov. 25.—Life imprisonment in the penitentiary was the sentence passed on Benjamin Elebenger by Judge B. G. Young. The crime without a challenge is charged is assault, after he had been committed last summer on Jessie Doyle, a child under the age of 12 years.

Registered Road Horses.

Mr. F. C. Nutter has just returned from Terra Haute, Ind., where he secured several fine registered road horses. The animals have been brought to Licking county and are now the property of Alexander Samuelson, who resides north of the city.

Horses Frightened.

A dangerous looking accident occurred in West Locust street Saturday morning. The driver of a meat wagon in turning his horses shortly, caused the wagon to be overturned, frightening the horses. They began to run, but the driver luckily regained control of them before much damage was done.

Damaged by Fire.

An alarm of fire sent in about two o'clock Saturday afternoon called the Central department to the house on West Jefferson street, owned by John Scott and occupied by a family named Taylor. It seems that the fire caught from a hot plate and worked its way up through a cupboard and the ceiling, setting fire to the roof. Damage about fifteen or twenty dollars.

Firemen's Coats Borrowed.

The members of the Central Fire department are complaining about the liberties some unthinking persons take with their water proof clothing when running to fires. It very often occurs that the members of the department have not time to don their rain coats and boots at a fire, and leave them hanging on the truck. Almost invariably the garments are taken from the truck and used by persons who desire to get a closer view of the fire. The loss is a great annoyance to the firemen and they request that the garments be stopped.

HARDING ON THE MACHINE.

Lieut. Governor Warren G. Harding, the man who aspired to the Republican nomination for governor and who said some unpleasant things about Boss Cox when the Cincinnati man insisted upon renominating Gov. Herrick, has some views on machine politics as the following paragraph from his paper, the Marion Star, will show:

Senator Dick is reported to be at work attempting to rebuild what the recent political wave left of the Ohio Republican machine. It may not yet have occurred to the senator, but there's something of a feeling that the thing would be worthless if he did once more get it into shape. The feeling is such at present that there is just about as much demand for the rehabilitation of the old machine as there is for resurrection of the ox-cart."

Governor-elect Patton was interviewed the other day in Cincinnati where he said among other things: "One of the greatest tasks that will confront the next general assembly will be in remedying the extravagance in the conduct of public affairs. There will be no room in the state house for multitudes of useless employees. I want the administration to be a business one from the start, managed just like a great business, with a view to practical and judicious economy." That is the kind of talk the people of Ohio want to hear and they welcome the coming of the day when there will be in the governor's office a man with such views.

Vice President Turbell, of the Equitable, shed new effulgence on insurance practices. Attending agency meetings was a family jaunt upon a special car, for attaching which to a train railroads made no charge, because the Equitable owns large amounts of railroad bonds. His itemized bill for one trip was $1,959.25. The last item for one cigar, possibly. But a railroad always charges for attaching a freight car filled with a poor family's furniture because, it must be assumed, they own no railroad bonds. This is quite radiant, and tends toward serenity in viewing campaign contributions filched from trust funds to defeat a party that seeks tariff revision and railway rate regulation.

Snapshots at People of Note

MAYOR TOM L. JOHNSON of Cleveland, who is widely known for his aggressiveness as a reformer, is under discussion now on account of his campaign against suicide. There have been so many suicides in Cleveland recently that the mayor concluded to try to do something to stop them. So he has appointed a commission to inquire into the matter, to provide work for those who are dependent on account of lack of employment and to give friendly advice or assistance to such as need it. Mayor Johnson, who has a large fortune and some time ago retired from active business in order to devote himself to promoting his economic and political ideas, was an office boy in a foundry in Louisville at twelve years of age and drew a salary of $2 per week. One day one of the owners of the foundry saw the industrious office boy rush into the street, pick up a bit of iron and, returning, throw it on the scrap heap inside. When the boy returned the office he said to him: "Why did you do that, my son?" "Why, sir," said Tom, a bit embarrassed, "there was no use wasting it. They can put it in the furnace and use it over again."

"Well, I just think I can use you, young man, in the street car business. How would you like to come at $7 a week?"

Young Johnson accepted the five dollar raise with alacrity.

John S. Sargent, the famous painter, attended a banquet in New York not long ago. He met a young lady whom he knew very well, and she said, "Oh, Mr. Sargent, I saw your latest painting and kissed it, because it was so much like you."

"And did it kiss you in return?"

"Why, no."

"Then," said Mr. Sargent, "it was not like me."

The municipal ownership sentiment which has affected political results in several large cities this year caused the election as mayor of Buffalo of James N. Adam, an ardent advocate of such principles and a man whose wealth is rated above the million mark. Mr. Adam was born in the town of Peebles, Scotland, March 1, 1842. He attended school at Edinburgh until twelve years old, when he became an apprentice in the dry goods trade. In 1872 he came to America and located in Buffalo, where he established a dry goods business that grew to be one of the largest of the kind between New York and Chicago. Last year he retired from active business after a commercial career covering half a century. In 1895 he was elected a member of the board of councilmen. Owing to his familiarity with the success of the municipal ownership idea in his native land Mr. Adam became an enthusiastic supporter of the principle and as a councilman stood out against the disposal of public franchises to private corporations. In 1901 he was nominated on the Democratic ticket as alderman from a ward considered to be a Republican stronghold and was elected, party lines being disregarded. Two years later he was again elected a councilman. He was nominated by the Democrats for mayor this fall on a platform declaring emphatically for municipal ownership and was elected by a majority of nearly 10,000, although last year, when Mr. Roosevelt ran for president, the city went Republican by about 10,000. Mr. Adam is a typical Scotchman and has been known as a persistent and fearless fighter for policies he believes to be right.

The investigation of life insurance companies has brought out the fact that many of them pay very large salaries to their officers, and the question has been raised whether such salaries are justifiable. Elbert Henry Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, says that the real question is not whether salaries are too large, but whether the right men are drawing them. He gets $100,000 a year himself and avers that $100,000 a year is not too large for the right man as the head of a big insurance company. In proof of this he declares that any bank would be fortunate to get the services of J. Pierpont Morgan if it could, even at a salary of $1,000,000 a year.

Judge Gary is a native of Wheaton, Ill., and was born in 1846. He is a graduate of Chicago university and of the law department of that institution, was first mayor of the city of Wheaton, and served two terms as judge of Du Page county. For twenty-five years he practiced law in Chicago and retired from practice in 1888 to become president of the Federal Steel company. He was conspicuous in the formation of the United States Steel corporation and on its organization was chosen to fill his present post.

Governor Edward W. Hoch of Kansas, who declares that unless America's great trusts and corporations are controlled in the interests of the people a tidal wave of socialism will sweep over the country, is not only a careful student of sociological matters, but enjoys telling and hearing a good story as well. According to the governor, a friend of his in Topeka who recently became engaged to a charming young girl chanced to be in a department store when his eye caught a glimpse of a jeweled belt that he thought his fiancée would like to have. Going over to the counter, he asked the saleswoman to place an assortment of them on the counters so he could make a better choice. "What size do you wish, sir?" she asked. "Really, I don't know."

He gazed around the store for a few seconds. Finally he said: "Can you let me have a yardstick for a moment?"

The saleswoman got him a yardstick, and he placed it on the inside of his arm from the shoulder to the wrist, and in a few moments he exclaimed triumphantly to the surprised saleswoman: "Twenty inches, please."

The case of Eben Sumner Draper, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor of Massachusetts in the recent election, presents some unusual aspects. Curtis Guild, Jr., the Republican candidate for governor, who favors a conservative revision of the tariff by the Republicans in congress, was elected by a plurality of 23,115, while his associate on the ticket, Mr. Draper, who has opposed tariff revision, was elected on the face of the returns by a plurality of only 1,996, and the Democrats decided to contest his election.

Mr. Draper resides in Hopedale, where he was born on June 17, 1858, being the youngest son of George Draper, well known in his time as a manufacturer and founder of various industrial enterprises. After attending the public and private schools of his native town, Mr. Draper entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He was then fifteen. He took a course in engineering and on leaving college began work in machine shops, serving in different departments in various industries until he was twenty-one, when he became a partner in the firm of George Draper & Sons. He is now identified with numerous corporations. He married in 1885 Miss Nannie Bristow, a daughter of the late Benjamin H. Bristow, once secretary of the treasury. Mr. Draper was one of the founders of the famous Home Market club.

Former Governor Bates of Massachusetts tells of a visit he paid one Sunday to a small colored church in Virginia. After the usual services the parson arose and said in a solemn voice: "We will now have a few short prayers. Brudder Hooper, will yo' kindly lead?"

"Ma lead? No, suh! Ah just dealt."

answered the brother, half awake and half asleep.

New directors have come to Heinrich Comied, director of the Metropolitan Opera company, for in choosing him to head the proposed National theater the projectors of that enterprise have expressed their confidence in him as a representative of the highest achievements of the dramatic art. The National theater, which is to be built on a site facing Central park, New York, at a cost of $2,000,000, will not be national in the sense that it will receive support from the government, like the Theatre Francaise of Paris and the Hofburg theater in Berlin, but it will aim to present only the best productions and maintain a high artistic, moral and literary standard. The contributions of wealthy men to its support will render the institution more independent of popular caprice than ordinary theatrical enterprises.

Mr. Comied is a man of high artistic ambition and varied achievements. He has a sharp wit and a story is told of how a certain young woman had the temerity to play before him a nocturne that she didn't know at all well. Afterward, as she was taking leave, she said: "I hope to be perfect in that nocturne the next time we meet."

Comied bowed and laughed.

"Oh," he said, "I hope we meet before that."

If Roder Haggard's new novel, "Avecha," appeared recently. The author claims that this is not a sequel to "She," but a conclusion to that remarkable novel. It carries the narrative, Ludwig Horace Holly, and his wife, Leo Vinton, through a series of hair-raising adventures in the mountains of central Asia in quest of the ever elusive reincarnated queen.

LLÖYD C. GRISCOM.

Young American Diplomat Who Made Hit With Japanese.

Lloyd C. Griscom, who as minister to Japan figured a great deal in the dispatches from the orient during the hostilities between the mikado and the czar, may soon be an ambassador, the youngest in the diplomatic service of the United States and perhaps in that of any country. Raising the American legation to the rank of an embassy is expected to highlight the cordiality of the relations already existing between Japan and the United States, and Mr. Griscom has contributed not a little to the promotion of this friendship. Although so young he has quite a list of diplomatic achievements to his credit, and his career has not been lacking in interesting adventures. His father, Clement A. Griscom, was formerly president of the International Navigation company. The present representative of the United States in Japan was born in Riverton, N. J., in 1872. He enjoyed a liberal education, graduating at the University of Pennsylvania and studying law at that institution and also at the New York Law school. He got his first experience in diplomacy about a dozen years ago as private secretary to Thomas F. Bayard, then American ambassador to the court of St. James. In 1895-96 he was a newspaper correspondent in South America, and in his company were Somers Somers and Richard Harding Davis. The adventures of the party figured afterward in Mr. Davis' story of "Three Gringos in Venezuela."

He was an officer in the war with Spain, and on its conclusion was appointed secretary of the United States legation at Constantinople, and was charged with the duty of Minister Straus during several strenuous periods. He got $100,000 from Abdul Hamid for damages to the property of American missionaries, was with the sultan when the latter averted a panic in the palace during an earthquake and was one of several diplomats attacked by Turkish soldiers in a riot. In reward for his services at Constantinople he was appointed minister to Persia. He married Miss Elizabeth Duer Bronson about this time. The ceremony in St. Margaret's, London, was a notable event in society and diplomatic circles, and he took his bride on a wedding journey of a thousand miles through Persia.

CARL V. OF NORWAY

The Danish Prince Who Has Been Elected to a Throne.

The first king of Norway, Prince Charles of Denmark, has been known as the "sailor prince," and as Norwegians are famous as a seafaring people his love for the sea will help to make him popular with them. It was reported at one time that if elected king he would take the title of Haakon VII., which would connect him in association with the last of the vikings, Haakon VI., who reigned in the fourteenth century. But he has selected the title of Carl V. Prince Charles was chosen king of Norway as the result of a plebiscite in which the vote was 219,431 for a monarchy and 64,115 for a republic. He is the second son of the Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark, and was born on Aug. 3, 1872. In 1894 he married Princess Maud, the favorite daughter of King Edward VII. of England. They have a son, Prince Alexander, and a daughter, Princess Dagmar, who was born July 2, 1892.

BREVITIES

THE HALL OF FAME.

Charles W. Willis, who in childhood was a playmate of King Edward, has just died in Newark, N. J.

Tom Watson once described a man as "the sort of chap who wants to abolish the trusts and keeps a dog that howls all night."

Emile Loubet is the most popular president ever elected in France. There have been more sudden examples of popularity, but none so enduring.

Charles F. Herreshoff, who designed the Iroquois, that defeated the life designed Temeraire in the recent contest for the Canada cup, is only twenty-five years of age.

William Kingsley, who was born in Ireland in 1783 and fought with Nelson at Trafalgar, is said to be living, at the age of 122, near Bloomfield, Mo. He fought in the Crimean war, also in the Mexican and civil wars.

Robert Jasper Martin, J. P., who recently died, was one of the fine old Irish gentlemen who inspired Lever's novels and was both writer and composer of "Balladoodle" and "Killiloe" as well as other famous songs.

The real name of the famous operatic tenor, Max Alvary, was Achenbach. His father, the famous painter, Professor Andreas Achenbach, is still living, aged ninety. His birthday was lately celebrated officially by the city of Dusseldorf.

Dr. James Law, dean of the veterinary department of Cornell university, has declined the offer of Secretary Wilson to take Dr. Daniel E. Salmon's position in the bureau of animal industry on account of inadequate compensation.

The Earl of Tankerville, whose wife previous to her marriage was Leonora Van Martin, an American girl, has been addressing open air revival meetings in England, assisted by the countess. Lord and Lady Tankerville are great lovers and patrons of art.

Mrs. Caroline M. Severance, organizer of the first woman's club in the United States, lives in Los Angeles, Cal. She is eighty-five years old. In 1860 she organized the New England club of Boston and was president of that institution for three years. Mrs. Severance is still active.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Two former newspaper women are now singing grand opera roles for Manager Henry W. Savage. These are Miss Gertrude Rennyson and Miss Claude Albright.

J. M. Barrie has postponed his visit to this country until December. When he arrives Miss Maude Adams will be playing his "Peter Pan," while Ethel Barrymore will be appearing in his "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire."

There are two successful "College Widow" companies on the road this season. This is not remarkable when it is remembered that this comedy played an entire season at the Garden theater, New York city.

Henry W. Savage will provide Raymond Hitchcock, his foremost star comedian, with a new vehicle, and it will be produced for the first time on any stage early in December at the Tremont theater, in Boston.

Three organizations are now playing "The Catch of the Season" to good business—Edna May in New York, Seymour Hicks and Ethel Terry on tour in England, and another company at the Vaudeville theater, London.

FACTS FROM FRANCE.

The porters of the market place in Paris carry, strapped on their backs, great baskets full of garden produce. Often one sees a man with a load of cabbage that is bigger than himself.

It is announced that the rich art collector, Joseph Reinach, will present to the Louvre his portrait of George Sand by Eugene Delacroix, a graceful, piquant head in which the writer's admirer profess to find her as Letitia.

The new statue of Camille Desmoulins, recently unveiled in Paris, shows the orator dressed in garments that did not come into fashion until after his head had dropped into the basket. So it has been removed that alterations may be made.

The fondling of cats and dogs was severely condemned at a recent medical congress in Paris. This was apropos of tuberculosis, and the cat was pronounced to be more dangerous than the dog on account of the greater difficulty of keeping it under hygienic control.

GAME LAWS OF OHIO

Plans Being Laid for General Overhauling During Session of Legislature--Governor Pattison Will Make Some Changes--Present System is Blamed

Columbus, Nov. 25.—Plans are being laid for a general overhauling of the fish and game laws of the state. The commission on the one hand there is a demand for better protection for the game, and on the other there is a demand for better protection for the people from the game wardens. Under the law the entire fish and game question is in the hands of the fish and game commission. The governor appoints. The board numbers five, and each man is appointed for five years. At present it is constituted as follows: Thomas B. Paxton, Cincinnati, Democrat; D. W. Green, Dayton, Republican; James F. Rankin, South Charleston, Republican; George W. McCook, Steubenville, Democrat; Paul North, Cleveland, Republican. This makes the board Republican. The chief game warden, J. C. Porterfield, is also a Republican, as are all the attaches of the force. This commission appoints all the deputy wardens for the county districts. It is these deputy wardens who have done much to bring the law into disfavor by their plans of operating with the approval of the commission. In May the term of Commissioner Rankin will expire, and Governor Pattison will have the appointment of a new man. An opportunity will then be afforded of breaking the present Republican rule that has operated with such ill effect in some sections. The chief warden gets a salary of $1,500 a year and expenses. by the accidental discharge of his gun. With his brother and brother-in-law he was in the woods and had climbed on a stump to wait for rabbits. In some manner his gun fell from his hand. The hammer caught on his coat sleeve and discharged the lead into his breast. He was found dead a short time afterward by his companions. Three weeks ago while young Hedge was cleaning the same gun at his home it was accidentally discharged. The mother of the young man received the charge in her breast and was killed instantly.

In Louisville is Man Who Wanted the Doctor to Cut His Throat.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25.—Charles Caplinger, who requested Dr. Chas. Goosmann, of Cincinnati, to cut his throat, is known in Louisville. With Miss Maud Carver, with whom he is infatuated, he recently joined an amateur theatrical troupe in this city to play the role of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Caplinger and Miss Carver tried to get married in New Albany, Ind., but on account of Miss Carver's age a license was refused. The company went to Carrollton, Ky., to fill an engagement and in that town Miss Carver was arrested and returned to Louisville. This was done at the instance of her stepfather, Louis Lindie. At present Miss Carver is residing with her grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Borden, 504 West Chestnut street. She says she loves Caplinger and was deeply affected when told of his plight.

AKRON MAN'S SKULL

Penetrated by Sharp Pointed Oil Can. Fatalities Follow Two Auto Wrecks.

Canton, O., Nov. 25.—John V. Everhart, a real estate and insurance dealer of Akron, was instantly killed, and Fred Baskerville, an automobile dealer of this city, was so badly injured that he died two hours later, in a collision between a car on the Canton-Akron electric railway and an automobile. The collision occurred midway between Canton and New Berlin. The interurban car was in charge of Motorman Charles M. Turner and Conductor John Hang. The former says that because of the deep cut through the crossing he could not see the automobile which was crossing the tracks. The car immediately returned to Canton with the bodies aboard.

Everhart was found under the machine soaked with gasoline. Examination by physicians shows his skull was fractured, and that an ordinary oil can with a sharp point has been driven through his brain. The lower part of Baskerville's body is crushed.

Everhart was a prominent real estate man of Akron, and was wealthy. He is survived by a widow and three children.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 25.—In a collision here last evening between an automobile and a private carriage, four persons were hurt. The injured:

W. M. Murray, president of the Standard Automobile company, skull fractured and three ribs broken; unconscious at West Penn Hospital, and may die.

James McClintock, business man; taken to his home.

Mrs. George Ditworth, society leader, Bridge avenue, Allegheny; seriously hurt.

Ed Kearns, driver for Mrs. Ditworth, badly hurt. Murray and McClintock were in a heavy automobile running at 100 speed on the Grant boulevard, when they collided with the carriage of Mrs. Ditworth. It is claimed the wheels of the automobile slipped as Murray tried to guide it round the carriage. Both automobile and carriage were wrecked.

From St. Louis Visit Newark Spending the Day With Mr. E. H. Everett of This City.

A private car carrying Breckenridge Jones, capitalist, of St. Louis, and several other prominent financiers, making a party of eighteen in all, arrived in the city over the Pennsylvania lines at 8:20 a. m. Saturday, from Columbus.

While here the gentlemen are the guests of Mr. E. H. Everett, who is showing them about the city. The exact purpose of their visit could not be learned Saturday, although it is believed that the party are in town in connection with the Ohio Bottle Works, of which the Everett works is a part.

The party will probably leave late Saturday evening. Their private car which is owned by the Pan Handle passenger depot.

HISTORY OF MUSIC

Remarkable Book Just From the Advocate Press by Prof. Arthur L. Judson, of Denison.

There has just been issued from the Advocate press, a remarkable book by Prof. Arthur L. Judson, entitled, "A Guide to the Study of the History of Music," a work which students, members of women's clubs and libraries and schools have long needed. It is a portable handy volume bound in cloth and containing thirty chapters, a division of which is of especial interest and value to the general reader.

The book is an eager and comprehensive study, which no one who pretends to an understanding of music, can afford not to possess and ponder. It is a thorough yet simple analysis of the stages by which the divine art has developed and research and philosophy have gone into its making.

Certainly no one in this country has treated the subject in a more helpful or interesting way. The treatment too, is free from all unnecessary technicalities.

There is independent thought, there is too, the utmost catholicity of spirit, its style is clear, and not without dignity, manly and entertaining. It will certainly establish itself as a text book. The whole work is characterized by knowledge, firm mastery of the subject and a rare adjustment of detail.

It is excellently written and handsomely printed and bound, and can be cordially recommended to students and all who are interested in music.

Mrs. Judson's scholarship is, therefore, his ethical poise serene, his logical sympathies wide and his general reading enough to make him assume something larger than a merely pedagogic attitude toward his subject.

Making It Go.

He said he'd fixed the furnace. So it would throw out heat. And he'd at all seasons. Of course he might meet. For some had been claiming. That sort had closed the door. But he will, he knew better. And he would prove it too.

A goodly bunch of paper. He in the furrowed. And then he threw in splinters. And wood that he had chopped. He packed the coal in neatly. Until there seemed enough. He set the paper blazing. And then there came a puff.

He tried all his devices. But still the furnace puffed. Then he decided. The lines and pipes were stuffed. He pushed the fire with water. A little later he would choke. And when it was extinguished. The house was filled with smoke.

The pipes he disconnected. And worked at them till sore. And soon the coal by himself. Was gone on the floor. Then from the blue came tumbling. More coal at rapid pace. And it was a full midnight. Late he had the pipes in place.

Once more he jammed in paper. And split a wood and coal. Again a fire he started. And a few flames upward roll. He limed up from the cellar. As black as blackest crow. But he had fixed the furnace. And he had made it go.

EAST END MISSION

Will Close Tomorrow With the Evening Devotion and Sermon—A Successful Week.

The interest in the mission which has been in progress at the Church of Blessed Sacrament all this week is most intense, judging by the constantly increasing crowds in attendance.

Yesterday more young men approached the sacraments than it was supposed belonged to the parish.

They were exhorted to remain loyal to their church and its practices, to attend not only the Sunday but the week day services whenever possible, to affiliate themselves with Catholic societies, especially the Knights of Columbus, of which Fr. Laycock is himself a member, and to marry a Catholic wife early in life.

Last night the church was crowded the discourse being on "The Road to Rome or why I became a Catholic," dealt with the distinctive works of the Catholic church.

Today the special services are for the married men and the instructions and sermon to them at 7:30 this evening will be one of the most interesting of the week. The masses tomorrow will be at 7, 8 and 10 a. m. and as many as can are requested to attend. The mission will close with the evening devotions and sermon.

IT'S ALL RIGHT

To Import Cigarettes. But All Wrong to Use Them in Indiana—A Queer Situation.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25.—Attorney General Miller's brief in the Lowry cigarette case, in which Superior court Judge Leathers, here, decided that the anti-cigarette law does prohibit any one from importing cigarettes for his own use in original packages, was filed yesterday afternoon. He claims that it in no wise violates the interstate commerce law. In part he says: "The anticigarette law does not operate upon the right of a person to import cigarettes into this state, but upon his right to use them after they arrive. We insist that the statute is a valid police measure, in what Chief Justice Marshall calls that immense mass of legislation which can be most advantageously exercised by the states, and over which the national authorities cannot assume jurisdiction."

The constitutionality of the law will soon be determined by the Supreme court.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Results in Death of Mrs. Francis B. Harrison and the Injury of Others.

(Bulletin.)

New York, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Francis Barton Harrison has been killed in an automobile accident in Long Island City. She was the wife of a lawyer, congressman and recently Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of this state. J. M. Scott, of New York and San Francisco, of the Union Iron Works was injured, as was Chas. B. Crocker of New Haven and Constant Hewitt, chauffeur. The party was on a pleasure trip over the Long Island roads. The steering apparatus went wrong at high speed, dashed into the curb. The occupants were hurled in all directions. Mrs. Harrison was the daughter of the late Charles Frederick Crocker of San Francisco, under whose will she received an estate valued at more than $4,000,000.

How To Carve the Turkey.

Insert the carving fork at the small end of the breastbone, plunging it down so as to gain good command. First cut off the leg with the second joint; then the wing on the side farthest from you. Tip the turkey from you and take off the leg and wing from the side toward you. Next carve thin slices from each side of the breast; then remove the wish-bone from the carcass. Cut through the ribs, first on one side then on the other. With a quick turn of the knife divide the front or breast from the back of the carcass. Now remove the fork, which has not been withdrawn from first to last. Divide the second joint from the drumsticks, and make two pieces of each. Then divide the back, lower and upper half, at the second rib joint. The turkey is now ready for serving.

WILL NEWARK POLICY HOLDERS SEND PROXIES TO T. W. LAWSON

Zanesville People are to Take Action at a Meeting to be Held on December Fourth.

In Many Cities Policy Holders are Sending Proxies to the Boston Man Who Seeks to Have Two of the Big Companies Reorganized.

In many cities of the country life insurance policy holders are holding meetings to discuss the insurance situation and almost without exception the policy holders have voted to send their proxies to Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, Mass., the author of "Frenzied Finance," who is making a single handed fight against the "system" and who in the past two years has exposed the methods of high finance and brought men high up in the financial world into the limelight of disgrace. It was Mr. Lawson who told of the inequities of some of the life insurance companies long before the Equitable squabble began and before Inquisitor Hughes began to apply the probe in New York. The disclosures of the New York insurance investigation still in progress have startled the whole world. Lawson who has spent a million to drive out the men who have plundered the insurance companies, proposes to get control of the New York Life and Mutual and vote in new men. He will turn over the proxies to leading men who will vote them and will not himself control the vote.

Newark policy holders while intensely interested in the Lawson plan have not taken concerted action. No meeting has been held here but doubtless many have mailed their proxies to the Boston financier. In the neighboring town of Zanesville the insurance matter will be brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday night, Dec. 4. Saturday's Zanesville Times-Recorder says:

It was at the meeting of the directors of the chamber of commerce last Monday that E. M. Ayers was appointed a committee of one to draft resolutions, these to be presented at the monthly meeting on December 4. It is expected that at this meeting a large number will attend who will vote their proxies to Lawson.

During the last few days a large number of Zanesville citizens have conferred with E. M. Ayers a number of these making known that favor that they have already given Lawson proxies on their policies, also a number of others who are ready and waiting to give their proxies.

Lawson asks not that he be given the proxies of policyholders to vote as he likes, but asks that he be given them to vote for a committee that will represent the policyholders.

This committee proposed by Lawson to be organized to vote the sentiments of the policyholders, is to be of governors of several states, men in whom confidence can be placed. The names of this committee of governors are to be submitted to the policyholders 10 days or two weeks earlier than the time to vote, that if any are not wanted they need not be placed on the committee.

The Ohio Life Policy Holders' association, of Cincinnati, is greatly interested in the action taken in this city with reference to voting proxies. This association, recently formed, is organizing to influence better laws in Ohio and is also affiliated with other associations in other states.

In his last installment of "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's magazine Mr. Lawson tells of the effort of the insurance companies are making to thwart his plans and he urges quick action on the part of policy holders if they desire to set the insurance business on solid feet. Lawson says he lost over $12,000,000 through the "system" method of financing and he has been getting even by telling the people how high finance is managed. His articles have been more widely read than any published in years.

LAWSON TODAY SAYS HE WILL CONTROL BOTH COMPANIES

(Bulletin.)

Boston, Mass., Nov. 25.—Thomas W. Lawson today said that he has received so many proxies that he has control of both the New York Life Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Insurance Company is absolute. Mr. Lawson says that Harriman is endeavoring to coerce employees of the railways in the interest of the insurance companies, but the railway men's labor organizations are with him, and if necessary will make an issue of the matter. He gives no figures on the proxies received up to date.

Policy-Holders Meet.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 25.—At a meeting of Texas Life Insurance policyholders here a report was adopted denouncing the new policy pursued in the management of the affairs of the New York Life Insurance company, the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York and the Equitable Life Assurance society. One hundred and four members responded to their names, and a motion was carried to exclude all those in any way connected with life insurance companies from participating in the meeting or organization. Proxies were not recognized.

Federal Supervision of Insurance.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—A movement was begun in Chicago by members of the Iroquois club to hold a convention in Chicago of representatives of all the principal political clubs throughout the country to discuss ways and means of securing federal supervision of life insurance companies. Although the Iroquois club is a Democratic organization, its members will endeavor to make political capital out of the convention, as the resolutions calling the meeting say the number of Republicans invited and the number of Democrats will be equal.

MURDER AT INDEPENDENCE, IA.

BLOODY DEED MOST BRUTAL IN HISTORY OF STATE

Evidently Mother Killed While She Was Preparing a Meal—Baby Less Than Three.

Independence, Ia., Nov. 25.—William McWilliams is under arrest here charged with the murder of his wife and five children at their home, six miles south of town.

The bloody deed is declared the most brutal in the history of eastern Iowa. Evidently the mother had been killed while preparing a meal, probably dinner, for when the bodies were found food was on the stove cooking. She had been killed by blows of a hammer and her skull was terribly crushed; then she had been savagely hacked with a knife. After her murder the children had evidently been called in one by one and murdered in a similar manner, for all wore clothing that indicated that they had been at work on the farm just before death. The babe, not three years old, when found still wore hood and mittens and had in its hand a piece of buttered bread. One blow of the hammer had sufficed for it, and then the murderer laid it in its mother's arms. The only evidence of a struggle was found in injuries sustained by the 16-year-old daughter; her hands were badly lacerated where she had apparently clung to the murderous knife.

LITTLE GIRL

Arouse the Family and Saved Her Baby Sister From Burning House.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 25.—The country home of Mrs. Ellen Reavis, a widow, burned yesterday, the family escaping with only their night robes.

Frances Reavis, an 11-year-old girl, discovered the fire, awoke her mother, two sisters and Miss Emma Seybold, her school teacher, who was a guest, then ran to another room, seized her baby sister and a zither, the property of the school teacher, which the little girl prized greatly, and escaped from the burning building just as the roof fell.

Four hundred dollars in currency was burned in the house.

NOT SUSTAINED.

Charges Made Against a Member of Meriwether Court.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 25.—A sensational incident marked the session of the court which is trying Midshipman Minor Meriwether, Jr., in connection with the light between himself and Midshipman James R. Branch, Rear Admiral Alexander H. McCormick, next in point of rank of the members of the court to Admiral Ramsey, its president, was challenged by Judge Advocate Marix after the whole testimony for the prosecution had been submitted. The grounds for the challenge were, first, that Admiral McCormick had consulted with a high medical authority in relation to the case; second, that he had by his repeated cross-examination of the prosecution's witnesses practically taken the place of the counsel for the accused, and third, that he had evinced the possession of theory in the case which was so proved that it would be impossible to move it by the evidence. After some argument and a statement by Admiral McCormick in refutation of the allegations, the president of the court ruled that the challenge had not been sustained. The court has requested the secretary of the navy to order that the body of the late Midshipman Branch be exhumed and an autopsy held.

ONLY TO SPITE

A Defiance Girl Brown Wedded the Laporte Postmaster's Daughter,
It Is Alleged.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 25.—Judge Richter, in the Laporte county circuit court, yesterday afternoon granted a divorce to Mrs. Katherine Banks Brown, the youngest daughter of the late Postmaster Banks, from her husband, Merrill Brown, of Chicago. She is permitted to resume her maiden name, Katherine L. Banks, but cannot remarry for two years. The allegations were cruelty and desertion.

The marriage was highly romantic, and followed a three weeks' acquaintance. The day following the wedding, the plaintiff told the court, her husband told her he married her to spite a girl in Defiance, O., to whom he was engaged. She also testified that Brown and his mother went to Defiance and tried to induce that girl to wait until Brown could get a divorce from his Laporte wife when he would marry her.

Three months after the marriage Brown induced his wife to draw a large sum of money she had in bank and to go with him to California, where, according to the plaintiff's evidence, Brown left her penniless.

GARDNER LOSES

After 20 Rounds, Sensational Fighting Mike Sullivan Wins in the 'Frisco Bout.

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—After 20 rounds of sensational fighting, Mike (Twin) Sullivan of Cambridge, Mass., defeated Jimmy Gardner of Lowell, Mass., Referee Jack Welch making the decision while Gardner was carried weak and tottering to his corner. The decision was a popular one, not only on its merits but because it also brought joy to the short-enders, who generally obtained odds of 2 to 1. The fight was full of skillful boxing and footwork, hard punching and well-directed efforts.

EMPLOYERS

Organize to Head Off Strikes, the Government to Assist.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—The employers of St. Petersburg have taken the lead in resistance to the workmen, whose constant strikes, alternately of political and economic grounds, utterly demoralized the business of the country and are bringing ruin and bankruptcy to all branches of industry. They have formed an association with Herr Nobel at its head and have mutually pledged themselves not only to refuse strike pay, but to absolutely decline to treat with their employees on questions of wages or hours of work until the national assembly acts. Count Witte, in behalf of the government, has seconded the employers by directing that identical action be taken at the government works, and both government and private workmen have been given until Monday to return to work or be locked out indefinitely. The men are already suffering from excessive privations, and unless they yield they will soon be driven to desperation by hunger.

Said to Have Confessed.

Albany, Nov. 25.—John Hammond, the missing husband of the woman whose strangled and decomposing body was found here wedged in a trunk in her home, is said by the police to have confessed more than a week ago to his brother-in-law, a man named Mangini, that he had killed his wife.

COUPLE CAN'T YET CONVERSE

BRIDE OF DR. HESSEL POSTMA IS OHIO GIRL

Romance Began in Faraway Holland
—It Was Love at First Sight.

Findlay, O., Nov. 25.—In far-away Holland began the romantic courtship of Miss Laura May Love and Dr. Hessel Postma, who were married this week. Miss Love is a resident of Toledo, but for several years was a teacher of French, German and Spanish in Findlay College. She spoke the languages with the accent of a native and last fall determined to visit Europe to develop her linguistic talents.

On her way from England to the continent she stopped at Amsterdam, Holland. While walking on the streets of the Dutch capital she passed a gentleman and the two exchanged glances. They claim they fell in love at first sight. The gentleman, through a friend who was an acquaintance of Miss Love, secured an introduction. Then followed the embarrassing situation that they could not understand each other.

Herr Postma could speak only the tongue of the Netherlands with which Miss Love was not familiar. The friend acted as an interpreter, and through this medium Postma proposed to the American girl and was accepted. The fact still remains that, although man and wife, they are only able to talk through an interpreter. Dr. Postma is a physician of high repute.

TRADE OUTLOOK

Dun Says Fundamental Conditions Are Unchanged—Activity in Textile Mills.

New York, Nov. 25.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Fundamental conditions are unchanged, although higher temperature at many points again checked retail sales of heavyweight wearing apparel and other seasonable merchandise. Labor conditions in the building trades have not improved, and another serious struggle may occur. Otherwise the situation is satisfactory and the outlook bright, with mercantile collections steadily improving. Holiday trade gathers impetus as the season advances. Comparisons with last year's figures continue favorable. Leading industrial undertakings report little idle machinery and there is less complaint regarding car shortage, railway earnings thus far available for November exceeding last year's by 6.4 per cent. Activity continues at textile mills, but the primary markets for cotton goods were decidedly disturbed by the violent advance in raw material.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Rev. P. A. Baker of Columbus is Re-elected General Superintendent of the Body.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25.—The convention of the Anti-Saloon league adjourned to meet in St. Louis Nov. 19, 1906, after the election of officers. Bishop Wilson was elected president and the Rev. Father James McCleary of Minneapolis was elected vice president. Other officers elected were: S. E. Nicholson, Harrisburg, secretary; James L. Ewin, Washington, D. C., corresponding secretary; Foster Cleveland, treasurer; P. A. Baker, Columbus, O., general superintendent.

Mutiny in Black Sea Fleet.

London, Nov. 25.—Reports of a secret society of fairies, which provided for the appearance of the fairies at a public place, were confirmed from a public place.

John M. Pattison, the New Governor of Ohio

AT the convention which nominated John M. Pattison, the Democrat recently elected governor of Ohio, it was asserted by one of his supporters that the candidate was "his own man." There was not a man in the convention who did not know the meaning of the statement or who failed to appreciate its significance as a campaign text. It was something new in Ohio politics of any creed for the party leaders to go to the nominating convention with a candidate in their pocket and to return home without having been given the opportunity to launch him. That is precisely what happened at that convention. The leaders were on hand promptly with their various selections, but none of them had chosen John M. Pattison.

For once, however, the rural delegates rose in their might and refused to be led. To the utter amazement and grief of the gentlemen from Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus and Toledo, who had devoted themselves so long and so unselfishly perhaps to the duty of representing the party in convention assembled, the country delegates united stubbornly on John M. Pattison and refused to be tempted by any one of the five other candidates dangled seductively before them by the party leaders.

The reputation of being "his own man" was of great service to Mr. Pattison during the campaign. It pleased the people mightily, and they turned out in great force to obtain a glimpse of such a political novelty. His popularity became so apparent that his political enemies were almost thrown into consternation. They charged him with being an opportunist, shrewd to take advantage of an easily acquired popularity, but standing for little or nothing himself. Almost precisely the same was said of the late Mr. McKinley. The very charge was an admission of Mr. Pattison's originality and shrewdness. It argued well for his ability that he saw a better opportunity in a direct appeal to his party than in the cut and dried method of propitiating the party leaders.

GOVERNOR ELECT AND MRS. JOHN M. PATTISON.

providing for the federal supervision of insurance. That was long before the present New York legislative investigation was contemplated. He worked and voted to secure the first rural free delivery appropriation. The experts of that time had so little confidence in the experiment that the postoffice returned that appropriation as an unexpended balance, but the farmers of today know its worth. In the state senate Mr. Pattison held out against the solid front of his party when, in 1890, an attempt was made to repeal the law closing saloons on Sunday. For his opposition to that repeal his opponents dubbed him a Puritan, an advocate of the blue laws.

John M. Pattison was born on a farm in Clermont county, O., June 12, 1847. His father was in humble circumstances, being only a tenant farmer and afterward the proprietor of a small country store. That of itself tells the story of the boy's early life. At sixteen he enlisted and served during the closing days of the civil war. He afterward taught school until he had earned money sufficient to attend the Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware, O. The class with which he was graduated has a remarkable record. It has furnished a vice president, two United States senators, three governors, one attorney general, several members of the national house of representatives, one bishop, one professor in the university, one general in the Spanish-American war, a commissioner of internal revenue, ten judges, several state senators and some other prominent men. In the same class were two men who now figure conspicuously as presidential candidates for 1908: Vice President Taft and Senator Foraker.

After graduation Mr. Pattison went west to write insurance for the company of which he is now the head. While engaged in this business he studied law and was admitted to the bar. At the end of ten years' practice he was invited to enter his old insurance company as vice president and general manager. He accepted and there was an increase in the business from the first year. This increase has continued and made Mr. Pattison president of the company. Today he is a moderate man, but one who does not measure his life by the material standard. This is his business history.

His political life has been equally satisfactory. He was put on the relative ticket of the first year. Today he is a moderate man, but one who does not measure his life by the material standard. This is his business history.

bearing, coupled with his energy and bodily activity, are rare in a man of fifty-eight. He can make an interesting speech, but he is not an orator. He makes his best impression in personal contact when one succeeds in penetrating his natural reserve and shyness. He is a man who has faced the problems of life squarely and without prejudice, being open to conviction and anxious for light. When he decides, however, the opportunity for argument has passed.

The Pattisons have a beautiful country home, a genuine farm, at Millford, in the Little Miami valley, fourteen miles out of Cincinnati. Mrs. Pattison is the daughter of the late Professor Williams, who held the chair of Greek at the Ohio Wesleyan university. There are two daughters and a son, who has just been graduated from college and will enter a law school.

ELLIS OSBORNE.

A GREWSOME BUSINESS.

A murder has naturally a very considerable effect upon the value of a house or shop in which such an act has been perpetrated. Thousands of people shrink from using rooms where murder has been committed or which have been the scene of a tragedy.

An ingenious London speculator has made a specialty of buying up the premises, usually for an old song at most, as the phrase is, afterward transforming the buildings and taking all risks.

By the aid of a clever architect and his own staff of men the speculator at once transforms the house or shop so completely that it virtually becomes a new property, and local authorities are for the most part thoroughly complaisant in aiding even the renumbering of such a house and otherwise hiding its identity where the thing is at all feasible.

The identical room in which the crime has been perpetrated is always altered absolutely to become unrecognizable. The man has derived not a little profit by selling the woodwork, the floor boards and so on taken from crime rooms, these being acquired by showmen generally.

WISE WORDS TO SUFFERERS

From a Woman of Notre Dame, Ind

I will mail, free of any charge, this Home Treatment to any lady suffering with female troubles. You can cure yourself at home without the aid of any physician. It will cost you nothing to give the treatment a trial and if you decide to continue it will only cost you about 12 cents a week. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. I have nothing to sell. Tell other sufferers of it. They will all thank you. It cures all, young or old.

TO MOTHERS OF DAUGHTERS I will explain a simple Home Treatment which speedsily and effectively cures Leucorrhea, Green Discharge, Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young ladies. It will save you anxiety and expense and save your daughter the humiliation of explaining her troubles to others. Promptness and neatness in the treatment is a recommendation. Wherever you live I can refer you to well known ladies of your own State or county who know and will gladly tell you that this Home Treatment really cures all diseased conditions of the delicate female organism, thorough treatment relieves muscles and ligaments which cause displacement, and makes women well. Write today, as this offer may not be made again.

"It is impossible for me to find sufficient words to express my gratitude for the good your remedies have done me, as they cured me of a severe case of falling of the womb, and I would be pleased to tell anyone, who would care to write to me, of the superior merits of this Home Treatment."

"After a few days' use of your Home Treatment, I was completely relieved of Ovarian soreness, bearing-down sensation and puritus, which had troubled me for many months."

MRS. GEO. SWAIN, R. D. No. 2, Eaton, Ohio.

"From childhood I had suffered from Leucorrhea, which kept me weak with bearing-down pains, headache and soreness. Nothing I could take did any good till I used your treatment, which cured me, and I both look and feel quite well now."

COLUMBUS CONFERENCES

THAT ARE TO BE HELD BY BOTH PARTIES NEXT WEEK.

Democratic Legislators Meet Tuesday—Old War Still on Between the Republican Factions.

Columbus, Nov. 25.—The coming week will be an important one for both of the great political parties in this state and its influence is likely to be felt in both for a long time.

On the Democratic side a meeting of newly-elected legislators will be held in this city to consider what course the majority in the next senate and the minority in the next house will pursue in reference to important legislation. The Democratic members are expected to meet here next Tuesday. Representative A. H. Judy of Darke county, who was re-elected, took the initiative in this matter and out of it will probably come his recognition as minority leader on the floor of the house. It is expected that Governor-elect Patton may run up from Cincinnati and consult with "the boys."

The Democratic state central committee will hold a meeting here the same day, and many prominent Democrats from all parts of the state will take advantage of the opportunity to "drop in" and see what is going on.

On the Republican side the week will be made interesting, if not picturesque, by the return of Governor Herrick from Atlantic City, where he has been sojourning since the house of Cox fell on him a short time ago. The governor left here in a state of physical exhaustion, but reports from the sad sea waves say he will return full of vim and vigor. He is expected on Monday. Then will follow a series of administration conferences with a view to putting J. B. Foraker out of business and "getting square" with Secretary Taft. Among those who will take part in these charming festivities are Senator Dick, Auditor of State Guilbert, Secretary of State Laylin, Attorney General Ellis, Treasurer McKinnon, John R. Malloy and perhaps a few others not so conspicuous in contemporaneous history. The first job these polite gentlemen have on hand is the act of wiping Brother Foraker off the map. The breach between Foraker on the one hand and Dick and Herrick on the other is now an open one and they are prepared to denounce one another on short notice. Taft is not considered such a difficult problem. The Herrick-Dick forces are lining up to keep their hands on the throttle and the scraw that will shortly ensue in Republican circles will be worth going miles to witness for any Democrat.

It is conceded on all hands that the inheritance tax will be repealed by the incoming legislature. The Democrats are pledged to repeal it and the Republicans will be afraid to vote against its repeal. This law never was popular, even among the Republican politicians, but it was made necessary by the extravagance of the 76th general assembly. Anything to raise the revenue required by the appropriations of that spendthrift body was a welcome expedient toward the close of the session, and the inheritance tax was one of the most important measures adopted to meet the emergency. The repeal of this and other oppressive taxation laws, however, will require strict economy in the expenditures of the next legislature. There will have to be a stoppage of all waste places and general retrenchment all along the line. It may be necessary to abolish some offices that Democrats would like to fill, but at any rate the appropriations must be kept at the minimum.

SKATING RINK

Lot Adjoining Old Planing Mill on South Fourth Street Near Canal Being Cleared.

The new skating rink company recently organized to operate a rink in Newark will be known as the Crescent Roller Skating Company, and is officered as follows: Manager, B. Patrell; president, J. F. Cherry; vice president, E. W. Tucker; secretary and treasurer, Charles McGruder and Charles Smith, members of the company. A number of workmen are now engaged in clearing away the rubbish on the lot just north of the old Flory planing mill on South Fourth street, and the work of constructing the new rink will be commenced in a few days. The building will be a one-story iron-clad structure, and will be up to date in every particular.

THE BUSINESS VIEW.

"What do you think of our scenery?" asked the enthusiastic native.

"Well," replied the practical business man, "I don't know. What do you expect to do with it?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A young western woman is dazzling in her courtship by her coat of lined gray and white and resembles an angel, all of which the young woman herself killed. It is of noted gray and white and resembles lizard skins.

now has an undoubted right to stand in the limelight and assert that if the late Republican state convention had tied its string to his kite the party stock would not now be quoted so far below par. The next state convention will doubtless be more inclined to listen to the statesman from Marion. He will be fought bitterly by the old Republican machine, but he can make terms with Daugherty or Ellis or they with him. It is most likely, however, that the state Democracy will have to give the Republicans another drubbing before they can "get together" in anything like harmony.

Two of the jokes that have been inspired by the late Republican disaster are the assertion of Congressman Grosvenor that "no man helped the ticket more than Foraker did" and the solemn declaration of Ex-Senator William E. Chandler of New Hampshire that the railway rate question was responsible for the defeat of Governor Herrick. The historian will determine how much Foraker helped the ticket by ascertaining the temperature of his feet during the campaign and it is well known that they were so cold as to leave a trail of ice as he strode up and down the apartment in which he was confined by a suddenly acquired sore throat, meditating on the Golden Rule. As to the railway rate issue, while it is believed in New Hampshire that it played an important part in the campaign, the opinion prevails in Vermont that the leading question was either the nebular hypothesis of fore-ordination, Rhode Island has not yet been heard from.

LIFESAVER

Rescues the Passengers of a Stranded Steamboat.

Holland, Mich., Nov. 25.—Wherever the story is told of the wreck of the passenger steamer Argo from Chicago, which struck a sandbar while attempting to enter this harbor, the name of Lifesaver Robert Smith will be held in veneration. The lifesaving crew had labored hours in futile attempts to reach the stranded ship. Men and women passengers and the crew stood helplessly at the end of the life line, not knowing how to manipulate the breech buoy that would carry them 500-feet over the slender line to safety ashore. Then it was that Robert Smith tied about his body a line thrown from the wreck to the struggling lifeboat and was dragged through the waves to the deck of the Argo, sending safely ashore first the four women passengers and a little girl, and then, after another the other passengers and those of the crew who had not chosen to remain with Captain John Stewart on board.

Refused a Charter.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 25.—The most important decision reached by the American Federation of Labor was the refusal to grant a charter to the National Stogieamakers' league because the trade is so closely identified with cigarmaking. A resolution was adopted requesting all labor organizations of Pittsburg affiliated with the federation who are members of the United Labor league to withdraw from that organization and join the Central Trades council.

LECTURE-CONCERT AT TAYLOR HALL

A FEW OBSERVATIONS MADE ON SUBJECT OF TOOLS BY DR. DILLS.

Miss Huber, Profs. Nusbaum and Schmidt and Others Delighted Those Present.

A small but appreciative audience attended the Camels lecture-concert at Taylor hall Friday night.

The program furnished by Dr. Dills, Miss Hazel Huber, Prof. Nusbaum, Prof. Schmidt and the molders quartet, Missrs. Vantum, Goss, Lanigan and Spitzer was much enjoyed.

Dr. Dill prefaced his remarks with the following:

"The Magnificent Order of Camels is a new one on me. Munificent means, liberality in giving; and a Camel contrivance is for affording needed help. Some menagerie Camels have two humps, and some only one. I trust you have the double facility, for both giving and forgiving, as both are necessary to complete charity. I consider forgiving as the greater of the two virtues, as it is easier to give than to forgive. And yet this should not be so, and would not be so, if we but substituted intelligent reflection for animal impulses to anger.

There is no feeling more hurtful to its possessor, or harmful to society, than anger; and the thim may occur with intelligent people, I will try to show that it is utterly inconsistent with intelligence. Strangely enough, I will attempt this contrariwise, by first considering fools—"Of whom a great many are which." In fact, as we are all conscious of having been fools, at times, it may be as a noted divine has said, that "the entire human family is divided into fools, damned fools, and idiots." That divine may only have intended to be sensational, but the Rev. Mr. Henson seems to have arrived at the same conclusion from a regular anthropological study of the fool question; his tickets read: "Lecture on Fools. Admit One."

Now to be called a fool, even with the benefit of a reserved doubt in our favor, is unpleasant; but to have it authoritatively stated that we belong to a race of fools, is discouraging and justifies looking into it.

Carlyle affords hope for a few, he says: "England contains 16,000,000 people, mostly fools." Yet Huxley not only robs us of this little hope, but decides the greswome question against us for all time. He says: "There is no hope that mere human beings will ever possess enough intelligence to select the fittest." Hence it is, I suppose, that 97 per cent of business men fail of complete success, according to statistics; and hence it is that when we fail, we should not sink away and commit suicide, as if we had failed willfully—nor should our wives curse, as if we wanted to work, worry and then fail!

Now to make the best of our woeful condition: if our fellow beings do not "possess enough intelligence to select the fittest," for conscience sake let us quit prating about charity, and go about practicing it.

Saved by Dynamite.

Sometimes a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her." Last summer was a record one in Paris for tips. The porters in the museums made more out of visitors whose umbrellas and sticks they took charge of than even during the World's Fair of 1900. Attendants at the Pantheon received as much as $6.25 daily in tips of small amounts.

The other day thousands of rats were seen running along some of the streets of Paris, near the Eastern station. They had been driven from their haunts by the destruction of an old bridge. Many were killed by man and beast, but some of the attacking cats were killed by the rats.

The statistics of the California insane asylums show that one in every 675 foreign-born residents becomes insane and one in every 3,110 native-born.

The Bosnian is as celebrated in Europe for the firearms, sabres and knives which he manufactures as the inhabitants of Toledo were for their fine-edged blades.

Dr. Stephen Call, an oecogenarian, has resigned the postmastership of Inezalls, Oak., declaring that conscientious attention to the duties of that position did not leave him enough time for coon-hunting.

John Young Brown was the youngest man ever elected to congress. He went to the thirty-sixth house at the age of 23 from Kentucky.

Herpicide Produces Marvelous Results

The lady whose photograph is here reproduced—writes the following letter about

Newbro's Herpicide

"the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ."

The Herpicide Company,
Detroit, Mich.

I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me. Since I first tested it thoroughly on my own hair, I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments, and with wonderful success. I would not think of trying to get along without it.

Yours sincerely,
MRS. ANNA CONNOR.
Hair and scalp specialist,
No. 2807 Archer Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

The natural beauty and abundance of this lady's hair is a striking illustration of what Herpicide will accomplish, and this is only one of the thousands of letters that the Herpicide Company have on file from people all over the world who are pleased to tell of the marvelous results obtained by the use of Herpicide.

The Only Positive Safeguard Against Baldness Is in the Use of

known throughout the world as "the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ." Herpicide is a new, scientific nonirritant germicide and prophylactic for the scalp—and positively cures dandruff, stops falling hair and prevents baldness. No one wants to lose their hair and it is a mighty serious matter to contemplate. Well, why trifle with unknown or so-called Hair-Growers, when you are absolutely guaranteed that Herpicide will not only save what hair you have, but will restore it to its natural luxuriance. It is the dandruff germ, which infests the scalp, that causes the hair to fall out. Herpicide will eradicate this microbic disease of the scalp and protect it against re-infection, and your hair will then grow as nature intended. NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE has reached the pinnacle of fame as a hair preparation and enjoys a distinction strictly its own. As a Hair Dressing—

Herpicide is truly exquisite on account of its dainty and refreshing odor which is characteristic—it beautifies the hair and leaves it soft, glossy, light and fluffy—it contains no oil, grease or sedimentary substance neither does it stain nor dye the hair.

STOPS ITCHING OF THE SCALP ALMOST INSTANTLY.

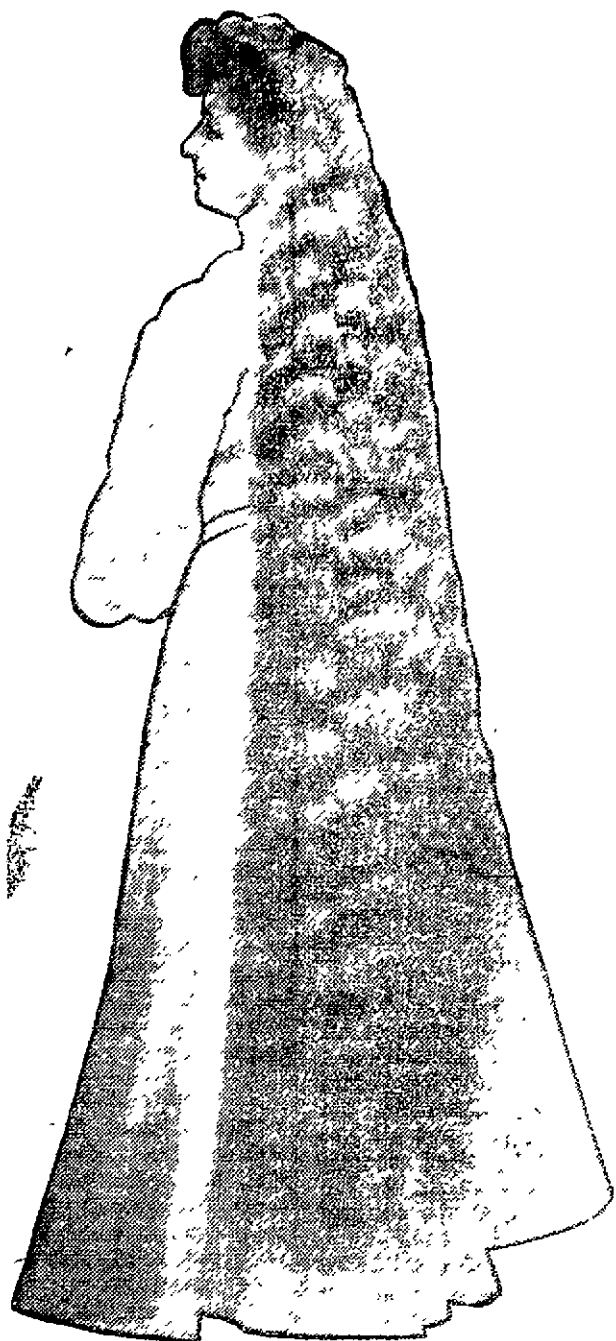

Destroy the cause—you remove the effect.

At Drug stores $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Dept. L., Detroit, Mich.

DANDRUFF IS AN ACTUAL DISEASE

and a very serious one, for it leads, sooner or later to chronic baldness, which is incurable—the disease must be treated in a thoughtful, persistent and scientific manner. The dandruff germ must be destroyed and kept out of the scalp with NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, because it is the only remedy that will actually kill the dandruff germ.

LODGE NEWS

Camels.

Monarch Lodge No. 66 will hold an important session on next Wednesday night at which time officers for the ensuing year will be placed in nomination. A committee consisting of Brothers Morgan, Crist and Duer was appointed to arrange for a big time at the public installation to be held the second meeting night in December.

All brothers holding concert tickets will please report same at the next meeting as the committee desires to make a report promptly.

Home Guards America.

Newark Home No. 34 is having some very interesting meetings, and quite an interest is being taken in the degree team work and drill. We have decided to have a free oyster supper for all the members of the home on next Wednesday evening, November 23, and all members of the home are expected to be present. Also nomination of officers for the next year will take place, and the regular monthly prize will be given to the lucky member present. Don't forget the date.

A. O. U. W.

Golden Rod lodge No. 100, A. O. U. W. will hold a dance at the hall next Monday evening. Members and their ladies are invited. Dancing will be free and will commence at 8 o'clock.

Masonic.

At a special meeting of Acme Lodge No. 554, F. & A. M., held on Thursday night the Past Master's degree was conferred on two candidates.

A stated convocation of St. Luke's Commandery, No. 34, Knights Templar, will be held on next Tuesday evening, when it is hoped that as many of the members as can possibly do so will be present.

Acme Lodge, No. 554, F. & A. M., at a special meeting on Thursday night conferred the Master Mason's degree on two candidates.

At the meeting of Center Lodge, F. & A. M., last Friday night, the E. A. and F. C. degrees were conferred. At the next regular, Friday evening, December 1, the installation of officers will be held, followed by the conferring of the Master Mason degree upon two F. C.'s. The brethren will remember this announcement and govern themselves accordingly. All members of sister lodges in good standing cordially invited.—Johnstown Independent.

Odd Fellows.

Following is a list of candidates for officers of the Grand Encampment of Ohio, to be voted on at the first regular meeting of Mt. Olive Encampment, No. 12 in December, which falls on next Thursday, December 1:

At the meeting of Newark Lodge, No. 623, I. O. O. F., held on Monday night, there was a good attendance of the members, and considerable business was transacted, among which was the conferring of the second degree.

Only routine business was transacted at the meeting of Olive Branch lodge of Odd Fellows Tuesday night.

Licking lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, held a well attended meeting on Thursday evening, at which five candidates were initiated.

At the meeting of Johnstown lodge, I. O. O. F., to be held this evening there will be work in the first and second degrees. There will also be nomination of officers and other important business.

Misses Bertha Gorsuch and Bertha Cramer were made members of Holbrook Lodge, Tuesday evening, refreshments being served after the work. Degrees will be conferred next Tuesday evening.—Johnstown Independent.

Knights of Pythias.

The regular meeting of Newark lodge, No. 12, Knights of Pythias, was held on Thursday evening. There was an unusually large attendance of the members, but only routine business was transacted.

At the meeting of Newark lodge No. 12, Knights of Pythias, to be held on Thursday evening, will occur the first nomination of officers for the ensuing year. There will be something to eat and drink at this meeting and it is hoped that there will be a large turnout of the members.

November 23. Twelve applications were presented for membership and referred to a committee of investigation. Fourteen candidates were found in the ante room waiting the instructions of the order, which were administered by the ladies' degree staff.

The contest for first prize on the roll of honor is getting very warm, and looks good for Newark Chapter winning first money. The two Wilsons, Harry and C. Edward, are contesting for the place. All chapters of the A. I. U. are eligible to this race, which will close January 1, 1906. First money will be $20, second $10, and third $5, and Newark chapter will capture one if not more.

K. O. T. M.

Banner Tent's regular meeting will be held Monday evening, November 27, in the office of Deputy C. L. Biggs at the hall, and it is urged that every member will be present at 8 o'clock as business of interest is to be transacted. Tickets and invitations for the Christmas ball are in the hands of committee. Members wishing to invite their friends will leave their addresses with this committee.

Royal Neighbors.

Daisy Camp, Royal Neighbors, held a well attended meeting Friday night and several candidates were balloted on and accepted. The new paraphernalia was used for the first time. At the next meeting December 14, the election of officers will take place.

GET INSIDE.

Your Friends and Neighbors in Newark Will Show You How.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure.

Backache comes from the inside—from the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Here is Newark proof that this is so.

M. B. Melick, driver of 51 W. Church St., Newark, O., says: "For a long time I was suffering from a constant sickening pain in the small of the back and in the hips. Any quick movement was followed by sharp, darting twinges that caught me suddenly and almost doubled me up. I suffered so from pains through the hips that at times I was almost laid up. Liniments and hot applications had little effect on it and I began using various medicines recommended for such troubles. I had little success until I got Doan's Kidney Pills, at Crayton's drug store. It was the only remedy that really found the right spot. It banished my troubles in time, and I have had no return of any symptom of kidney complaint since using it."

LEGAL NOTICE.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Auditor of the City of Newark, State of Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon, of Tuesday, December 12, 1905, for the purchase of bonds of the said city, in the aggregate of $16,000.00, dated the 1st day of August 1905, payable as follows:

No. 1 to 5 inclusive...August 1, 1911
No. 6 to 10 inclusive...August 1, 1912
No. 11...August 1, 1913
No. 12...August 1, 1914
No. 13...August 1, 1915
No. 14...August 1, 1916
No. 15...August 1, 1917
No. 16...August 1, 1918

Each being in the sum of $1,000.00 and bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, issued for the purpose of extending the time of payment of certain indebtedness which from its limit of taxation said city is unable to pay at maturity, and under and in accordance with Sec. 37 of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, entitled "An act to provide for the organization of cities and incorporated villages, and to restrict their power of taxation, assessment, etc." passed October 22, 1902, and under and in accordance with an ordinance, entitled, "An ordinance to provide for the issue of bonds of the City of Newark, State of Ohio, in the sum of $16,000.00 for the purpose of extending the time of payment of certain indebtedness which from its limit of taxation the city is unable to pay at maturity, passed October 16, 1905.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest and best bidder for not less than par value and accrued interest.

All bids must be unconditional and must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of any bid and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids must be accompanied with a certified check upon some solvent bank, payable to the treasurer of the City of Newark, Ohio, for 10 per cent of the amount of bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be bid for within seven days from the time of the award. Said check to be retained by the City if said condition is not fulfilled. The City reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Bids shall be sealed and directed to the City Auditor, enclosed, "Bids for bonds for payment of certain indebtedness."

CATARRH, FOUL BREATH

If You Continually K'hawk and Spit and There is a Constant Dripping From the Nose Into the Throat, If You Have Foul, Sickening Breath, That is Catarrh.

CURED THROUGH THE BLOOD BY B. B. B.

Is your breath foul? Is your voice husky? Is your nose stopped? Do you snore at night? Do you cough or growl? Do you have frequent pains in the forehead? Do you have pains across the eyes? Are you losing your sense of smell? Is there a dropping in the throat? Are you losing your sense of taste? Are you gradually getting deaf? Do you hear buzzing sounds? Do you have ringing in the ears? Do you suffer with nausea of the stomach? Is there a constant bad taste in the mouth? Do you have a hacking cough? Do you cough at night? Do you take cold easily? If so, you have catarrh.

Catarrh is not only dangerous in this way, but it causes ulcerations, death and decay of bones, loss of thinking and reasoning power, kills ambition and energy, often causes loss of appetite, indigestion, dyspepsia, raw throat and renders you generally feeble, idiotic and insane. It needs attention at once. Cure it by taking Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.). It is a quick, radical, permanent cure because it hits the system of the poison germ that causes catarrh. Blood Balm (B. B. B.) purifies the blood, does away with every symptom, gives strength to the entire body.

ADVOCATE PATTERNS FROM THE LATEST NEW YORK FASHIONS.

FIVE GORED SKIRT 5200.

Every variation of the plaited skirt is greatly in vogue and each new one seems more attractive than the last. Here is one of the latest of all models that is made with a kilted flounce and plain upper portion and which will be found especially satisfactory for wear under the long coats although it is desirable for every use of the season. As illustrated the material is light weight cheviot stitched with belting silk but all the skirtings and all the suitings that are not too heavy to be plaited successfully are appropriate. In addition to serving for the coat suit and for the separate skirt, it will be found a most desirable model for the simpler gowns for indoor wear, so that it covers nearly every possible use.

The skirt is cut in five gores that are fitted smoothly and are laid in inverted plaits at the back, with the flounce that is kilted and joined to the lower edge.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 8 yards 27, 4 1-2 yards 44 or 4 yards 53 inches wide.

The pattern 5200 is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inch waist measure.

STARTLING REPORTS

Of Cures Affected By Peculiar Medicines Continue To Pour In—Medical Men Puzzled.

Perhaps no accomplishment of the medical profession in the past few years has created such universal interest as the wonderful medicines with which L. T. Cooper the philanthropist, has been so marvelously curing Rheumatism, Stomach and Kidney Trouble, Blood Diseases, Catarrh, Deafness Paralysis and other diseases. The medicines are put up in such a way that they can be used in the home with the same results as though administered by Mr. Cooper.

Cases upon which noted doctors worked and failed to benefit are reported cured every day by these strange medicines.

A most remarkable letter comes from Miss Emma D. Clarke, 242 E. 5th St., Chillicothe, O., and relates her interesting experience. In part she says: "I want to thank you for the wonderful benefits I have received from the use of the Cooper Remedies. I have suffered agonies from Rheumatism and could find nothing that would relieve me. I heard of these medicines and what they were doing for others and decided to try them. I am happy to say that two bottles completely cured me and I am always glad to recommend them to any one so afflicted."

Cooper's New Discovery drives disease germs from the system. It cleanses purifies and enriches the blood. It strengthens the stomach and every organ of the body neutralizes the acids and increases the gastric juices in the stomach.

Cooper's New Discovery sells for one dollar per bottle. Cooper's Quick Relief the assistant remedy costs fifty cents. They are sold in Newark only by City Drug Store.

A DAY NURSERY TO OPEN HERE

EMPLOYMENT AGENCY IS TO BE CONDUCTED BY THE KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Rooms Adjoining Trinity Church are Being Fitted Up—Opening in December.

The Day Nursery will be formally opened the first week in December, and it will be duly incorporated under the state laws of Ohio. Mrs. Alice Corner Borwn, the founder of the Day Nursery in Columbus, who has had twenty years' experience in this work, and is a woman of charming personality, will be in Newark on Friday, December 1, and will speak of her work at the home of Mrs. Marvett Moore, on East Locust street. Mrs. Moore will open her home on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the people of Newark interested in this Day Nursery project and a musical program will be enjoyed, after which Mrs. Brown will speak on the subject of the Day Nursery.

The rooms on East Main street adjoining Trinity Episcopal church are almost ready for occupancy. In connection with the Day Nursery will be an employment agency, where those who desire work may leave their names, and those desiring help may secure it. The promoters of the enterprise are meeting with much encouragement.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at Hall's drug store; price 50c.

NEWARK BOYS

Will be Sent from Local Y. M. C. A. to Conference at Bellvue Early in December.

A new and unique feature of the Y. M. C. A. work in Ohio is the annual conference of the boys of the association.

Special attention is being given to the younger boys, which has resulted in these conferences. The one which is attracting considerable favorable comment and to which it is proposed to send ten boys from Newark, is to be held in Bellvue, O., December 1, to 3. This will be the second conference of Y. M. C. A. workers aged from 14 to 18 years, ever held.

The young delegates will be in the care of George E. Ingalls, general secretary of the Bellvue Y. M. C. A.

The Newark delegates will probably be chosen in the very near future.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S OFFERING.

It is seldom that the fortunes of the present day playwright are continually on the ascent. They often have a "backward slide," but of the wonderful success of her "Way Down East" Lottie Blair Parker followed it up with "Under Southern Skies." The "ever increasing" receipts of this sunny southern play, demonstrate the fact that "lightning does some times strike twice in the same place." From the first performance of her latest effort viz: the dramatization of Rev.

demonstrated very conclusively," says the New York Times, "that his powers, instead of being on the wane, are approaching a maturity which may mean ere long an even still more gratifying achievement. In avoiding the claptrap sensationalism in his newest play, Mr. Fitch has revealed much ingenuity. If handled along such lines as its story might suggest, 'The Woman in the Case' could not possibly have resulted in anything other than a melodrama of the most pronounced type. In the best scene

BLANCHE WALSH AND DOROTHY DORR,
In "The Woman in the Case."

Charles Frederic Goss' remarkable novel "The Redemption of David Corson" to the present time, the fact is self evident that Lottie Blair Parker has struck another winner.

DANIEL SULLY.

Mr. Daniel Sully, the only actor on the American stage who has been accepted by the public in the role of a priest, will be seen at the Auditorium Thanksgiving afternoon and evening in his latest and most successful play, "Our Pastor," a comedy drama in three acts. (Mr. Sully appears as Father Daly, the pastor of a little church in an Idaho frontier town, where his efforts to adjust the affairs of his parishioners and their neighbors lead him into many difficulties, some personal danger and several awkward situations. However, his quick wit, unflinching humor and an abundance of that typical American quality known in the West as "sand" carry him safely through all his troubles, and he succeeds in settling matters to the satisfaction of everybody concerned.

The complete scenic equipment is carried by the company, and the production is said to be exceptionally elaborate.

BLANCHE WALSH IN "THE WOMAN IN THE CASE."

"In 'The Woman in the Case,' the prolific author, Mr. Clyde Fitch, has of the play Mr. Fitch has wisely ignored tradition and the result is a quivering slice of real life, truthfully effective. The play provides Blanche Walsh with opportunities for the best acting she has up to now contributed to the stage, and her efforts are brilliantly seconded by the capable artists with whom her managers, Messrs. Wagenhals & Kemper, have surrounded her." That the New York theatre going public agreed with the writer of the above is proved by the fact that the piece ran for four months at the Herald Square Theatre, and after a brief summer vacation played a second and equally successful engagement at the Madison Square theatre, Auditorium, one night, Friday, December 1. Seats on sale Tuesday.

TIM MURPHY.

Surrounded by a splendid company, which includes artistic Dorothy Sherrod and many other notables, Tim Murphy comes to the Auditorium this season, the first in two years, presenting a play that should incite unusual interest in the minds of all theatre-goers. The offering for this occasion is a dramatization of Cyrus Townsend Brady's celebrated story of speculation, "A Corner in Coffee," which was first read in serial form in "The Smart Set," and which has been arranged for stage purposes by Owen Davis. For this presentation

Mr. Murphy has spared nothing—not omitting the minutest detail—and the promises are that we will see this favorite comedian in the best production he has ever offered.

MARY EMERSON.

Prominent among the company supporting Mary Emerson in "Will o' the Wisp" are H. E. Humphrey, Frank Young, T. W. Carroll, Edgar Norris, Arthur Wellington, Robert Desmond, Russell Clarke, Marie Falls, Susan Chisnell, Emma Haynor, Leslie Palmer, Esther Powell, Hilda Meurling and others. It is a well balanced organization, presenting a strong cast. The attraction will be seen here on Tuesday evening.

CRESTON CLARK.

Wherever Creston Clarke has appeared in "Beaucaire," this or last season, enthusiastic praise has been accorded his treatment of the notable character and the entire production has met with instant approval. A similar verdict is in store here for Creston Clarke in the famous Booth Tarkington comedy romance, "Beaucaire," upon this star's coming to this city.

ROSE COGHLIN.

The Blue Ribbon comedy of the season is admitted to be "The Duke of Killarney," which will be at the Auditorium this season. The play was first produced at Charles Frohman's Criterion theatre, London, England, and shortly after at the Empire, New York. Phenomenal runs were made followed by Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis. Miss Rose Coghlin is at the head of the company which will appear here and the entire original equipment will be used. The story is of two very pretty love affairs, the one between the Duke and Lady Henrietta Addison and the other between a member of Parliament, Henry Pitt Welby and Mrs. Mulholland, the widow of a glue king. The ladies coquette with the gentlemen a little too much, whereupon the lovers decoy them to a castle in the Highlands; here they capitulate and the charming comedy ends to the happiness of all.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

The second number in the Y. M. C. A. entertainment course will be given next Thursday (Thanksgiving) evening in Taylor Hall by Adrian M. Newens an impersonator, second to none, unless perhaps, it be Leland T.

Powers. Mr. Newens will present scenes from "A Singular Life" by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps. The entertainment committee feel confident that they have secured in Mr. Newens a Thanksgiving night attraction that will please tremendously. Seats reserved beginning Monday at 9 o'clock a. m.

TAYLOR HALL TONIGHT.

Lovers of negro dialect and negro songs should hear Mr. Elliott B. Henderson the colored poet and the colored singer, assisting him at the Popular Saturday Night entertainment in Taylor Hall tonight. Admission 10 cents.

That spectacle which proved to be so popular both with the old and young—"Woodland"—is now touring the larger cities after having enjoyed a run of over two years in New York and Boston and one or two of the larger places. It was composed by Pixley and Laders and contains an amusing story as well as a multitude of novelties. All the characters drawn in the piece are birds. The production is especially attractive to children who composed more than half of the capacity audiences which witnessed the performances everywhere.

The large cities other than Chicago and New York are soon to see "The Virginian" with Dustin Farnum in the leading role. Prior bookings compel it to leave the Academy of Music in New York where it has been playing to capacity houses. Hence it will be placed on the road.

The reception accorded last year, to the comic opera, "The Lottery of Love" in which Madame Schumann-Heink appeared was one of such favor that she has concluded to retain it for this season.

It took fourteen months to drill a hole 5,560 feet deep at Dornloof, South America, and three eight-hour shifts were worked daily. At the depth of 5,000 feet, or nearly a mile, it required from three and one-half to four hours to raise the rods from the deep hole, and almost as long to lower them after the diamond drill point was put in order.

PEOPLE OF NEWARK

A PROCLAMATION BY FRANK D. HALL.

Whereas, the people of our city have been led to purchase so-called remedies from which they have received no benefit whatever, and having thus wasted so much hard-earned money, it has come to pass that they knew not what to believe.

Inasmuch as this unsatisfactory state of affairs now exists, know, therefore, all persons who are in need of a medicine for any of the following ailments, that we will supply them with VINOL, our Cod Liver preparation made without oil, on a positive guarantee that if it does not succeed in benefiting them, we will refund the entire amount of money they have laid out on the medicine.

There is no one medicine that will cure everything, but there are some we know to be honest, reliable and of great curative value. Such is VINOL; it is not a patent or secret medicine, everything in it is plainly printed on the label. We are familiar with every particle of it, and know that it should be a blessing to all persons who have troubles hereinafter described; and, unlike other medicines, it will cost absolutely nothing if it produces no benefit.

Could any offer be more fair than this? You are ill; we offer you medicine which we believe in our hearts will be a blessing to you, and if it is not we will return to you every penny you paid us. Is there anyone foolish enough not to accept this offer? If you are ill and need such a medicine you owe it to your family, to your friends, and yourself to try VINOL, which we give you our pledge is a genuine Cod Liver preparation made from fresh Cod's Livers.

Do you think we could afford, to lend our name to its praises, as we have been doing in the newspapers, if we did not know VINOL to be an honest and unusually valuable remedy for the ills for which it is prescribed? We certainly could not; we therefore ask you, our neighbors, friends and acquaintances, to accept our assurances that this is a genuine offer, and that any and all persons who need a medicine of this character should feel a sense of security in our offer.

All Run Down—No Appetite. If you feel all worn out, have very little appetite, and not much sleep, caused by over-work or sickness, try VINOL on our guarantee.

Debilitated—All Tired Out. Why drag out an existence without life or ambition. It is not natural to feel continually tired. We guarantee VINOL will bring life, strength and vigor to the debilitated. If you do not feel well try VINOL. If it does not help you, your money will be refunded.

Gain Flesh—Get Strong. You can get fat without taking disagreeable Cod Liver Oil. Fat taken into the system does not create fat. We believe VINOL will create flesh quicker than any preparation containing grease. We have proved in many cases that VINOL quickly creates strength. Try it on our guarantee.

Indigestion—Dyspepsia. Only those who actually suffer know its terrors, for them life is robbed of all joy. It produces many serious complications and enfeebles the entire system. Relief only comes when a scientific remedy enables the stomach to properly assimilate food. There is no medicine that will do this so successfully as VINOL. Try it on our guarantee.

Old People—Weak People need a strengthening and invigorating re-builder. VINOL is of exceptional value in such cases. We guarantee it to give strength and health to those who are weak and debilitated, from disease or old age. Try it on our guarantee.

Pale Women—Pale Children need a tonic-reconstructor that will create flesh and make pure red blood. Pale, haggard faces show that the blood is poor and thin, and also indicates imperfect digestion. VINOL will correct such troubles as sure as the sun shines. Children love VINOL, it is so delicious. Try it on our guarantee.

Bronchitis—Sore Lungs often end fatally unless specially cared for in its early stages. There is no medicine more valuable for restoring health to the throat and lungs than VINOL. Try it on our guarantee.

Nervousness—Irritability. Diseased nerves are due to over-work, insufficient nourishment or slow breaking down of general health. We guarantee VINOL to permanently and effectually remove nerve affections; it actually rebuilds the entire body. Try it on our guarantee.

Chronic Colds—Hacking Cough. Sure signs of danger ahead. One might as well commit suicide as to let them go unchecked. VINOL is the very medicine needed. Unlike other Cod Liver preparations, it does not upset the stomach, and is delicious to the taste. Try it on our guarantee.

Nursing Mothers—Weak Mothers. If women with nursing babies who have difficulty in keeping up their health and strength would take VINOL, we know positively that the best results would be obtained. You know the life and future development of the child depends upon proper nourishment.

We stake our reputation on this offer being genuine. You will absolutely be under no obligation to us whatever, if after you have given VINOL a fair trial for any of the above ailments and have not received any benefit; you have only to tell us so, and we will return the entire amount of money you have paid us.

You see our faith in VINOL, and you must admit that we know something about medicine; therefore, when we tell you that VINOL is the most valuable Cod Liver preparation we have ever known, and a wonderful tonic-reconstructor and re-builder of strength, appetite and health, at the same time delicious to taste, we are not unreasonable to expect you to believe us.

Hundredth Anniversary of Battle of Austerlitz

THE approaching centenary of the battle of Austerlitz, which was fought on Dec. 2, 1805, cannot fail to arouse a rehabilitated enthusiasm in the heart of every one who is convinced that the man who won it was the greatest soldier of any age. It will serve also to recall to the public mind the memory of the wonderful "Cossack" at the climax of his amazing career, that period at which he seemed destined to overthrow the existing order of the European world. In the entire military career of Napoleon it is probable that no other event stands out so brilliantly as Austerlitz, taking into the account his numerical inferiority, the audacity of his scheme, the precision with which it was worked out, and the completeness of the victory.

He had been having things all his own way in that memorable Austrian campaign. Not that he had not been opposed gallantly and that any point of vantage had been unobtainable. Every step toward the capital had been disputed, but the French were irresistible. The Austrian commander, General Mack, a gallant soldier and a stubborn fighter, had been compelled to capitulate on Oct. 17, and Napoleon and his triumphant army entered Vienna with a shout of exultation that sent a shiver over Europe.

In the midst of all the festivity incident to the occupation of the Austrian capital Napoleon knew that the struggle was not yet over, that his enemy was preparing for the decisive blow. Since the battle was inevitable, he made up his mind that it should be fought in a place of his own selection. It was in the latter part of November, 1805, that Napoleon, on riding over the country around Austerlitz, determined to make the little Moravian town the battlefield on which he would meet the combined armies of Austria and Russia. He knew that his army was inferior in numbers to that of the allies, but he believed that his 70,000 veterans were amply sufficient to carry out the plan he had already formed.

The French forces were concentrated at Austerlitz with great rapidity. On the last night of November Napoleon's army was drawn up in a plain, with the right flank on Lake Moosnitz and the left six miles distant on a hill, which was covered with artillery. Two battalions of Cossacks were posted in the lake, which was bordered with marshes to protect it, and on a high slope was pitched the emperor's tent. From this little height Napoleon could overlook the entire scene. The allies approached and ranged themselves on a wavy line of heights just opposite the French. On the highest point, Mount Pratzen, the allies formed their center, which was commanded by the emperors of Austria and Russia in person. The finest corps in the French army, under the famous Marshal Soult, was detailed to storm the height of Pratzen.

All day long Napoleon rode among his troops, and after dark was returning to his tent when he received an evocation which was as novel as it was startling. The soldiers seized the bundles of straw that had been given to them for bedding and fastened them to the end of long poles. Then at a given signal they lighted the straw and elevated the poles. The illumination that followed was as sudden as it was splendid. All along the valley these improvised torches lighted the path of the astonished and gratified emperor, who recalled at once that it was the anniversary—the first—of his coronation. An enthusiastic shout of "Vive l'empereur!" was caught up by each troop as he advanced.

At 4 o'clock next morning the great Cossack was on horseback beside his tent. The moon had gone down, but through the cooler hush that preceded daylight the quick ear of the emperor caught a low, continuous rumble beyond the heights of Pratzen. The deep rumour passed from right to left, indicating that the allies were massing their forces against the French right wing. At the coming of dawn a bank of gray fog concealed the movements of the enemy, but the increasing rumble told the alert watcher that he had guessed aright.

At sunrise the fog lifted quickly, disclosing the dense masses of infantry which the allies were moving into position. Napoleon divined their intention at a glance. He knew perception told him that the allies, engrossed in the scheme of outflanking the French, were weakening their center by drawing off their troops to the left. The emperor's marshals, who had joined him, perceived the allied tactics and eagerly implored Napoleon for permission to take advantage of the situation. Turning to Marshal Soult, whose command was massed in the bottom of the valley at the foot of the height of Pratzen, the emperor asked: "How long it would take him to reach the summit. The daring fighter told him that it could be done in less than ten minutes. "Then let us strike," said Napoleon, "before the enemy is playing into our hands, it is necessary to interrupt him."

It was not until 10 o'clock that the signal was given. As ordered Marshal Soult, who had been grouped at the head of his troops, turned and galloped toward the summit. Napoleon rode toward the center, and as he passed through the ranks he said: "Soldiers, the enemy has put himself in your power. Finish the campaign by a clap of thunder." A long protracted shout of "Vive l'empereur!" was the answer.

Shortly afterward Marshal Soult with his strong battalions began to ascend the height of Pratzen. It was a magnificent military spectacle, and the emperor watched it with the keenest interest. With banners flying and arms gleaming brightly in the early morning sunlight, drums and trumpets filling the air with a deafening din, the massive columns climbed upward and onward. From the boom of Pratzen three presently issued a series of flashes and reverberations which suggested the sudden eruption of a volcano. In a moment the top of the height was concealed in smoke, and the two contending hosts engaged in mortal combat were covered from sight. For two hours Pratzen heaved forth fire and smoke, and then the sulphurous cloud lifted in the strong sunlight. The French standards waved upon the height and a victorious shout rose from the army in the valley.

Having pierced the allied center, Soult descended on their left wing. The precipitate flight of the disorganized defenders of Pratzen was intercepted by the French troops below, and the slaughter was terrible. The brave Buxhoeven, the Russian general who commanded the allied left, tried to cover the retreat, but he could do little.

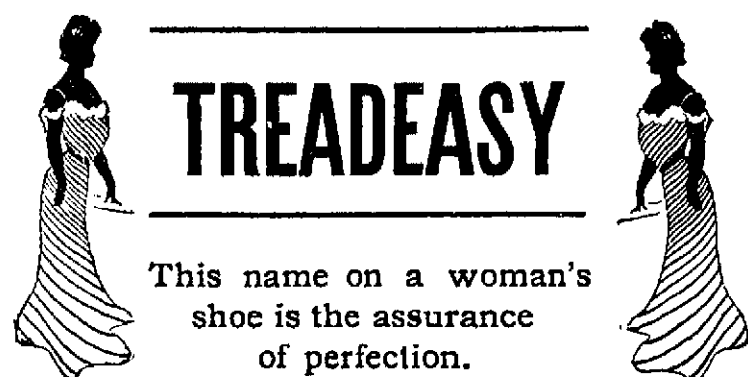

Over 7,000 of his command were pierced and trodden to death. The remainder tried to escape by crossing a frozen lake. The ice was not strong enough to sustain the weight of men, horses and artillery, and over 2,000 were drowned. Napoleon's other marshals were also successful with their commands. Before nightfall the bloody battle of Austerlitz was won, and over 20,000 bodies strewed the field.

This gun has a range of twelve miles, and it has been estimated that each shot costs $1,500.

ENGLISH SPEAKING PEOPLE.

English is now spoken by about 125,000,000 people. A century ago it was spoken by 20,000,000 people only. During that period no other leading European language has made the slightest advance. German has held its own and is now spoken by 80,000,000, but this is no higher percentage of the total number of people of European descent than it had a hundred years ago.

Likewise the Waters-Pierce company was not permitted to sell in Standard Oil territory.

Porte's Reply to the Threat. Constantinople, Nov. 25.—The porte's reply to the demands of the powers is not only a categorical rejection of the demands, but contains also veiled threats that the pressure of Europe will possibly excite the Turkish population to reprisals on the Christians. The note declares that the Ottoman government loyally introduced reforms demanded by the Muezzeg program, and says that if these did not entirely succeed the fault was in the hatred dividing the nationalities in Macedonia and instigation from abroad.

Macedonians' Agreement. Sofia, Nov. 25.—All the revolutionary bands in Macedonia have reached an agreement to work together for the autonomy of Macedonia.
